"When it's time for you to venture out, don't let fear have you looking back at what you're leaving behind."

- Anonymous

One day, Out of the blue, you'll be taking your last school test, you'll participate in your last fire drill and you'll look at your last report card. One day, Out of nowhere, you'll go to your last Friday night football game, or your last high school dance. One day, you will walk Out of your 6th hour, close your locker, and walk out the doors of St. Clair High School, one last time. Before you know it, you will be standing in a line, alphabetically, in a cap and gown, with the people you grew up with...that's when you realize you're Out of time. After graduation you may never see or hear from these people again. Some people may move Out of town while others will stay. One day you may forget about the people you once knew, but all the memories you have made each year at St. Clair High will never be Out of reach; all you have to do is look back at this book. The theme of this year's book can mean a lot of things to different people, but when we all look back at the pictures, stories, and memories we will all remember the little town we came Out of...

Also, this year we wanted everyone to feel like they played a part in making this book special. The designs on the end sheets can be colored so you can make your book different than everyone else's book.

Have you ever wonder what it's like to have an identical twin, who is the sake gender? Well, Danyelle Placentini knows both the pros and cons to being a twin.

"Having a twin is fun because I always have someone who is there for me. I love having a built-in-bestie, but I hate when I get blamed for the things she did. We are alike because we enjoy a lot of the sake things, but we also have our own interests. For instance, I really like running and being active, and she likes socializing and chilling with her friends. Although we both have different personalities and attitudes we definitely love each other. When we were younger, we would both cry until someone picked us both up at the sake time. I enjoy having a twin more now because as I have gotten older, I need her more than ever. When one of us gets hurt, the other is by her side. One day I was really stressed and Dakota sat with me and helped me get through a difficult situation."

Hopefully, after reading Danyelle's story your questions about what it's like having a twin are now answered.

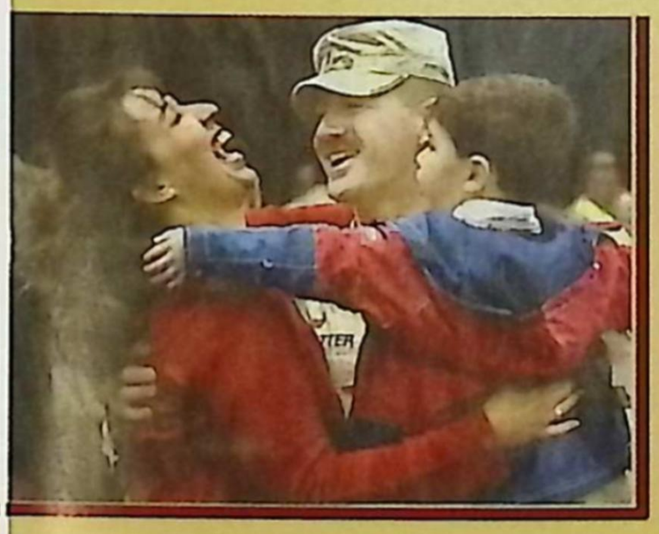
Josh Witter is a junior who has grown up with both parents in the military. Josh tells us of the hardships and the heartbreaking things he has had to deal with while his father was deployed in Afghanistan.



"Growing up, both of my parents served in the military. When I was five, my dad got deployed to Afghanistan, and I didn't get to see him in person for nine months. Luckily, I got to FaceTime him and talk to him on the phone occasionally. The hardest part was definitely him not being there. He missed Christmas, my birthday, and every holiday in between. I did not get to see my mom a lot either. After she resigned from the military, she worked full-time at a bank. My sister wasn't born yet, so I spent a lot of time with babysitters and my neighbors. I am very thankful for the amazing neighbors that we had, they helped make this time a little easier. One of the things that I learned pretty quickly was respect. Whenever my parents say anything to me, I always respond with 'Yes Sir' or 'No, Ma'am' out of respect for them. Overall, being apart of a military family has taught me to value the time that I have with my parents because I never really knew how much time I was going to have with them. After high school, I plan to join the military and continue on my parents' legacy."

Josh has had to face things that not many children will ever have to deal with, and as we can see, it has definitely made him into the person he is today.

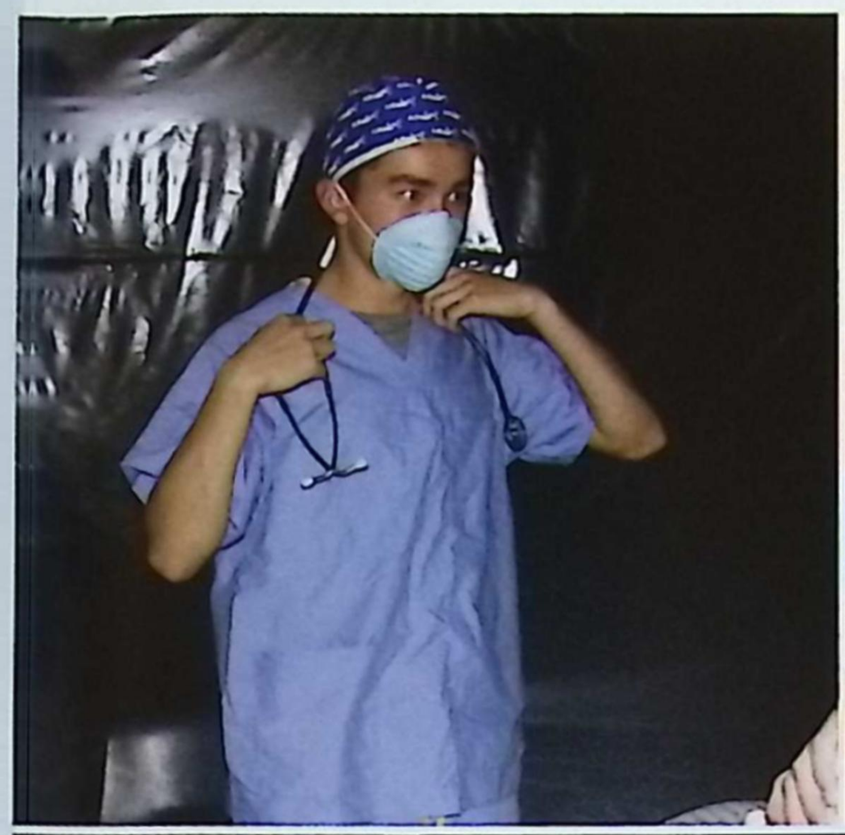
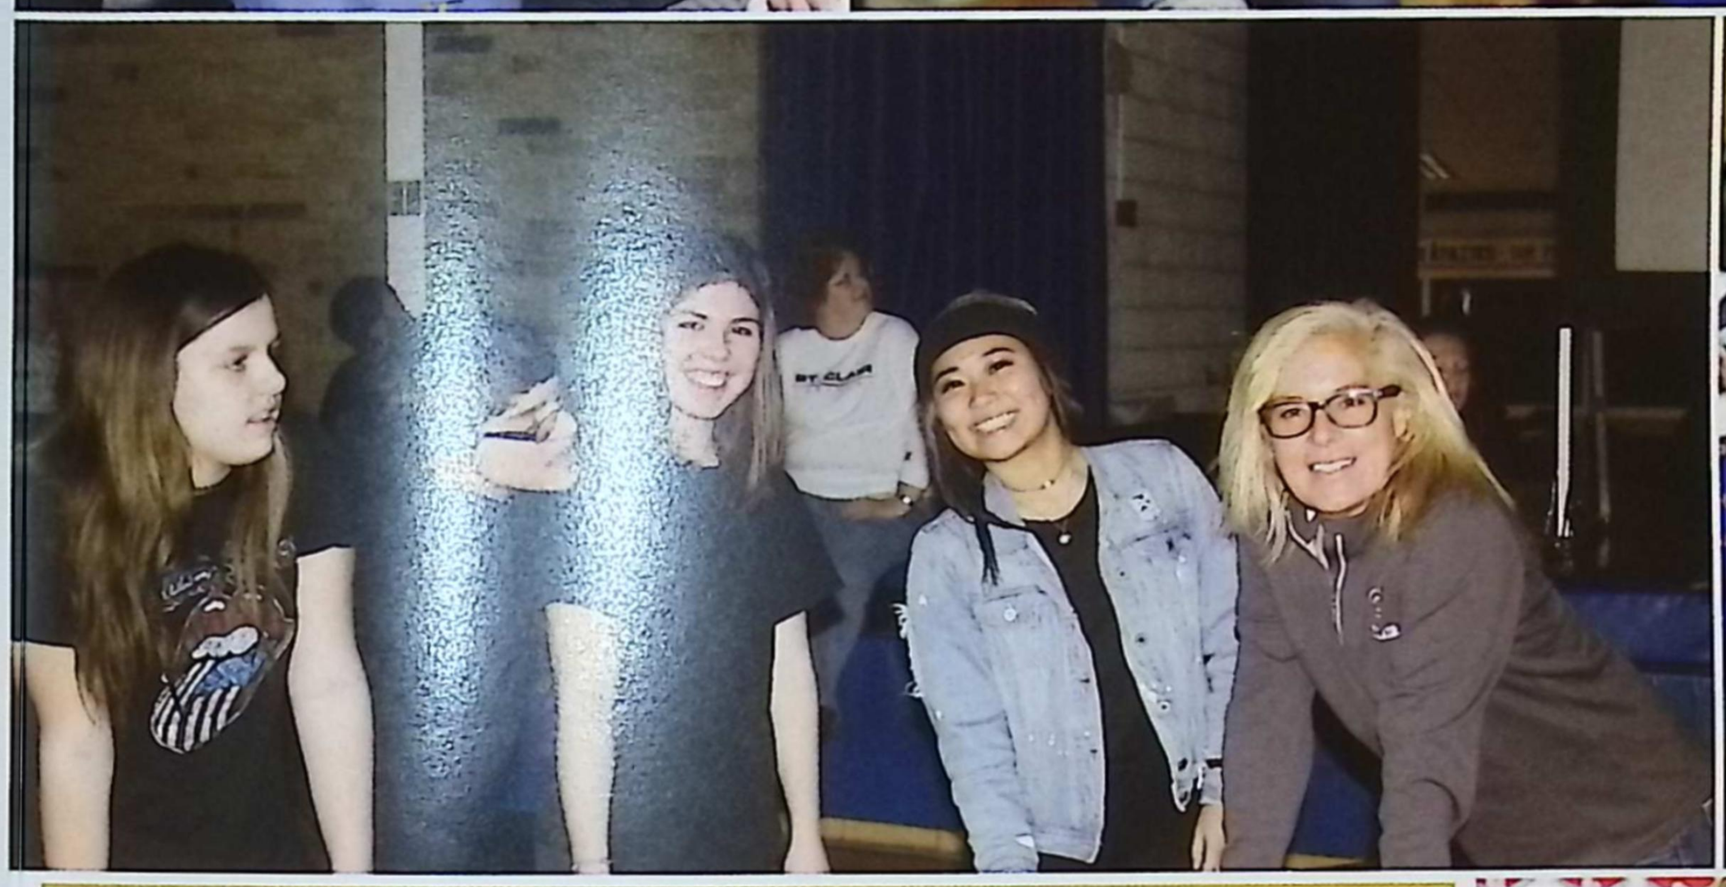
What would it feel like to have most of your sport season taken away from you? Michael McKinnon had to go through missing nearly his entire season, due to a devastating injury.

"It was the second game of the new football season. The second half had just begun and we were about to return the ball. As I went to go make a block on the kick-off, I took a hit to my back. Instantly I fell to the ground in pain. I stood up, and as I walked down the field the pain grew more and more. The pain got so bad that I had to hunch over just to keep myself on my feet. Once I got to the sideline, I asked our trainer to help me stretch to see if that would help. After a few minutes of stretching he decided to pull me out of the game and concluded I should go to the doctor immediately. When I went to the doctor they told me that they would need to do a CAT scan in order to see what the problem was. After the results came in, my doctor broke the news that I had a bulging disk in my back. He sent me to physical therapy and put me on the list for a MRI. After six weeks of physical therapy, I was finished because there was nothing more they could do for me. The MRI results showed that I actually had two bulging discs in my spine, as well as arthritis in my lumbar support. Sadly, I wouldn't be able to play the sport that I loved because the risk for a more serious injury (from being hit) was too high. I was devastated, my whole football career was over. However, after a week or two of thinking, I figured out a way to get back on the team. If could become the extra point kicker it would be nearly impossible for me to get hit. I brought it up to my doctor first and he agreed that it would be fine. Next, I asked my head coach and he loved the idea."

Michael plans to continue next year, during his senior year, participating in football to his best of his ability, after his recovery.





A torn ACL is every soccer player's worst nightmare. "I was chasing the ball at full speed, and the next thing I knew, a girl stepped on my foot and I torn my ACL," says Natalie Booms.

Natalie has played soccer most of her life, and it was her favorite thing to do. When she tore her ACL, Natalie was devestated. For a few weeks, Natalie could only move about in a wheelchair, until she upgraded to a leg brace.

"The hardest part of the whole thing wasn't necessarily not being able to walk correctly, it was the fact that I could not play my favorite sport with some of my bestfriends. It was awful." When things could not get much worse, they did. "A while ago, I was told that I might never be able to play soccer again, and I was heartbroken. I knew I had to try as hard as I could to recover so that I could play."

Natalie had to endure grueling physical therapy multiple times a week in order to regain the strength and mobility in her leg. She had to miss out on participating in activities with friends in order to successfully complete her physical therapy.

However, Natalie beat the odds, and things started to look up for her; she was given the 'O.K.' to play soccer after working hard to successfully complete her therapy. "Tryouts for the new season are very soon and I can participate in them! I'm so relieved to be able to play again," says Natalie.

Many students have dreams of continuing their love for their sport by signing with a college. The years ahead look promising for St. Clair athletics because of students like Ryan Zinyer, who are very committed when it comes to playing their sport.

"I have recently committed to the University of Michigan for baseball. I chose U-M because of its phenomenal coaching staff and outstanding academic opportunities. When I found out that the University of Michigan was interested in me, I was so excited and overwhelmed all at the same time. I have worked very hard to achieve my goal of playing baseball in college. I have put in extra hours of hitting, throwing, and strength training. I have attended all of the practices, and I am always giving 100% all the time, and I never give up. Baseball has always been a game that I loved to play. I never cared where I played, as long as I was out on the field, I was happy. I would love to have a future in this sport beyond college, possibly playing Major League Baseball, but for now my focus is on having a successful high school and college career."

Obviously Ryan's love for baseball will take him far. With his determination and hard work, his future looks very promising.

Being in the Junior Olympics can be difficult to accomplish, but Jennifer Falkner knows what it's like to achieve that goal at a very young age.

"Sailing is a very big part of my family's lifestyle. My grandparents are the ones who inspired me to start sailing, and it has been in our family for almost five generations. In general, I have been sailing since I was about six months old, but I've been competing over the past eight years. Competitively, I have been with two clubs; I started at North Star Sail Club in Harrison Township, and spent about seven years there. About a year ago, I recently switched to Crescent Sail Yacht Club. I have been sailing for such a long time, and I've been in many races. I raced from Port Huron to Mackinac last summer which is the longest freshwater race in the world. I have also competed in the Junior Olympics. Sailing is something I am extremely passionate about and I plan on doing the rest of my life."

Jenny cannot wait to challenge herself as a sailor and hopes to continue this tradition throughout her life.

What is it like to achieve your dream as a sophomore in high school, and more importantly, how hard do you have to work in order to reach your dream? Mark Estapa is someone who can tell you exactly what that's like.

"I have been played hockey since I was three. I first got my inspiration to play from my brother. I played because he did, and I stuck with it because it was a ton of fun and I was getting better at it. I love the competitive aspect of the sport and hanging out with my friends on the team. Hockey has always been enjoyable for me despite some sacrifices I have had to make. I haven't gotten to spend as much time with friends from school and I've had to miss out on school dances because I'm always away at tournaments. However, recently it has all payed off. In November 2017, I verbally committed to play D1 college hockey for the Western Michigan University Broncos. I feel great about it and I am really looking forward to my future there. I'm extremely grateful for my family, coaches, teammates, and friends who have helped me along the way. I have always planned on playing hockey in college, but I just didn't know where I would end up. I was really hoping for an offer from Western, and I kind of thought I might get one, but I was still surprised when I actually got the offer. I'm most looking forward to playing for something more than just myself and my team, but for a whole school. Playing at Western will be a great experience and I'm really excited for it."

Mark plans to continue to play hockey for his travel team, Little Caesars, until he departs to play hockey at Western Michigan University in Fall of 2020.

Unlike many students, sophomore, Maci Chamberlin had the opportunity to visit Germany this Christmas break. Her trip was a break from reality, but also a huge wake up call because the way of life in Germany is quite different than life here in America.

"I learned that Germans live a much simpler life and they don't stress about work or school as much as we do. Family is very important to them and so is their food! Most of their time is spent with family and gathering for delicious homemade meals."

The architecture is also a sight to see, "A lot of the houses and buildings are a much older than those in America, and everyone has a huge appreciation for the old buildings . I thought it was funny because they love the 80s and modern decorations!"

Not knowing the language of a different country would be very challenging, but Maci had her family to help out. "My parents, sister and I decided to travel to Germany because we have family stationed there. My great grandpa lived in Germany before he came to the U.S, so we still have some relatives there. It was weird not knowing what the people around us were saying, and it was hard not being able to read menus or signs either. Thankfully my cousins were there to help us out with buying things and ordering food."

Traveling to Germany and going to all the castles, old churches, Christmas markets, Amsterdam, and the concentration camps made Maci realize that there is a whole different world out there. "We went to a concentration camp which was cool, but extremely depressing and sad. I cannot explain the feeling that came over me, it was such a strong feeling of helplessness and sorrow. I definitely want to go back to learn more about my heritage and the culture. If I ever got the chance to, I would move to Germany. Some of the universities offer classes in English so going to college there could be a possibility!"

Maci's trip to Germany definitely changed her outlook on life, and maybe even her future as she could be calling Germany her new home.

This past year, Spencer Hack and his family took an amazing trip to Africa with family friends. The trip was an eye opener for him and he learned a lot about third world countries. This is his recap from his trip.

"This past summer, my family, along with the Balok family, had the opportunity of a lifetime, to travel to Africa. We began our trip in Zimbabwe at Mana Pools Wildlife Preserve, staying at Kavinga Safari Camp. The camp included a main lodge and six separate steel framed canvas 'tents' which were elevated to keep the wildlife out. These structures overlooked a large open area called The Pan, where we had a breathtaking bird's-eye view of many animals passing through to grab a drink from the watering hole below. We saw exotic animals such as elephants, lions, zebras, baboons, warthogs, impala, hyenas, cape buffalo, baboons, and even a leopard (a very rare sight, even for the natives.) Every morning and evening our guides would take us out in an open safari vehicles called Land Cruisers, to witness these animals in their natural habitat. After our jaw-dropping introduction to the wonders of this unfamiliar continent, we journeyed to our next destination. We all got loaded into the trucks and drove four hours to Lake Kariba where we began our journey on a houseboat. We traveled across the calm waters of the lake, anchoring at different locations along the banks each night. We got to see many hippos and crocodiles swimming through the water, going about their day. The sunsets we witnessed on the lake were spectacular! After four days of sightseeing and fishing out on the lake, we hopped on a small plane and flew to Victoria Falls. This camp was very similar to the setup of Kavinga, except the tents over looked a gaping gorge, at least 250 meters deep. The actual falls themselves were astonishing. They showered mist over us as we walked right up to the edge of the gorge. Finally, on our last day in Africa, we visited a small village and school. The experience was very humbling and gave us all a look at the lives of people in less fortunate situations."

Spencer was very lucky to get to see all that Africa has to offer and it's obvious he would definitely go back again in the future.

Hailey Gohl and Jaylin Mason have been rebuilding the greenhouse in Mr. Perrin's room since the beginning of the school year, and here's how it got started...

"My best friend, Jaylin Mason, and I started working on the greenhouse together because of our interest in plants. We first saw the greenhouse over the summer, so once school started we kept asking the office about it. Soon we were introduced to Mr. Perrin and he got us started working on the greenhouse. There were a lot of old dusty pots and garbage in there, so we had to clean all of that up first. We basically started from scratch, several different teachers donated plants. Although, we're still working on getting more plants. Every day during seminar, we water the plants and make sure they're getting enough sunlight. The hardest part about working in the greenhouse is figuring out what exactly we are were going to do with the greenhouse and then create a plan with Mr. Perrin."

Hailey Gohl and Jaylin Mason plan to continue helping out the high school with their passion for community service.

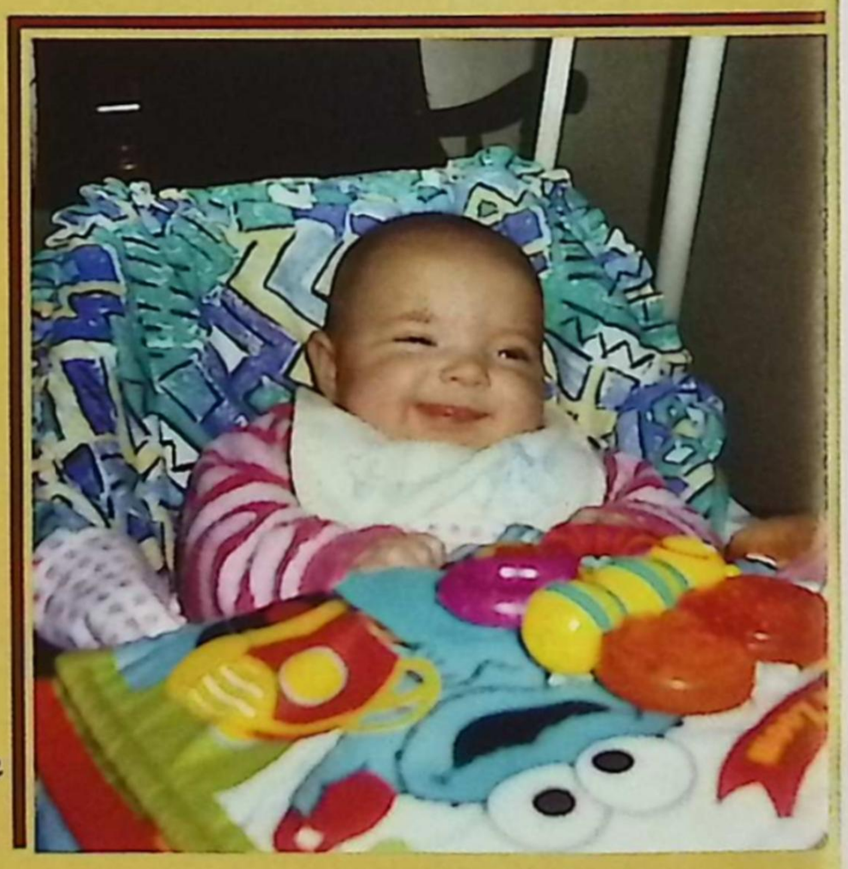
Grace Furtah is a fun young girl who ran into some problems as a baby, but she does not let it stop her.

"When I was born, I went into heart failure which stopped oxygen flow to my brain for a whole minute. This caused my muscles to tighten severely and resulted in a condition called Cerebral Palsy. As bad as it may sound, the condition only affects me in minor ways. I have had to wear braces since I was little to help me walk. Also, sometimes I stumble when I walk because of the way my legs move. However, CP doesn't really affect my ability to complete daily tasks. I do have a few challenges because of my disability. Getting around can be tough, but that just depends on how the day goes. With the challenges I face, and the way my disability affects me, I have learned a lot in life. A major thing I've learned is to be mindful of what I have because things could be a lot worse. I am grateful to be able to do the things that other people can do. If I could say one thing to the world, I would tell everybody to be grateful for things that they have. I probably wouldn't be able to walk if my heart failure was longer than what it was, and I am so grateful for what I have. When people hear my story, I want them to love the world for what it is and not let things hold them back for any reason."



Through any problems that Grace faces, she still sees the good in the world. Will you?

Freshman, Sam Tricomo has been recently recruiting fellow classmates and friends for his short film. Sam has been working very hard on this project for four years now. He hopes to finish his feature length film soon and from there, hopefully it will find its way to the big screen.

So far this has been a very successful journey for Sam, but with his success he has encountered many struggles. His biggest struggle was dealing with those around him who didn't believe in his abilities. Now, he is proving them wrong by entering his film in the 2018 Sunrise 45 Film Festival. The making of his film was, and still continues to be, a very gradual process. The idea for this particular film popped into his head one day and he eventually developed it into a screenplay The film itself is about how hate from peers can affect a person, and how we must learn from that experience. On top of that, he wrote a fullscript for another film which he named "Ambitions".

As a result of his filmmaking journey, Sam has learned many valuable life lessons. Creating films has taught Sam that everything doesn't always go the way you want, and that we must keep going regardless the outcome. Sam is beyond excited to see where his films goes, and what journey it will take him on.

St. Clair's Athletic Hall of Fame has been an ongoing tradition since 2009. Nominees are picked every year and then out of that group, it is voted upon by a group of board members to see who will be placed in the Hall of Fame. Each nominee has to be at least five years out of high school and each team nominated must be at least 10 years out of high school in order to be considered. This year, there were several faculty members inducted...this is what they had to say.

Denny White has been a part of St. Clair High School's history for thirty-one years. He is one of only four people to ever receive the Lifetime Achievement Award, which is the highest honor one can receive. The individuals who receive this honor have been extensively involved in sports at our school. For example, Coach White currently coaches baseball and football and is the voice behind the MIC at many of the school's sporting event.

"I am a part of the committee that chooses the inductees for the Hall of Fame awards, and this year we decided not to give out the Lifetime Achievement Award. So when I found out I was being inducted, needless to say, I was very shocked and taken by surprise."

Jessica McDonald was inducted for the sport of volleyball. She explains to us what her season was like.

"The year of 1994-1995 was a great year for St. Clair Volleyball. We came extremely close to beating Marysville which was a great achievement for us because Marysville was 'state material'."

This is the twenty-seventh year principle Ron Miller has been involved in St. Clair High School sports. He was honored as a Community Member for his involvement in our school's athletic program.

"St. Clair High School's athletic program is something to be proud of. Over fifty percent of the school's students are involved in some type of sport. Not to mention, over 80% of those athletes are 'All Mac Academic' scholars. Our schools' athletic program is something I am extremely proud of. I am even more grateful I have had the chance to be a part of it for almost three decades. Tickets, balls, and microphones are all things that are needed to run a sporting event. I felt very pleased when I was told I was going to receive this award, I have put a lot of time and effort into this school's athletic programs.

Mr. Miller has been an administrator and athletic director at St. Clair High School and has helped run over ten thousand sporting events for the past 27 years.

Coach Shawn Sharrow was final staff inducted for his role as an assistant coach for the girls basketball team that made it to the state championship in 2004.

"It was nice to be honored and it was great to see some of the girls that played for me; I haven't seen them for multiple years. That season, my greatest memory was seeing Rachelle Matthys make it to the state championship game. She was one of the hardest workers this program has seen, and her making it to states was really well deserved."

Coach Sharrow continues his coaching career, and he is currently an outstanding coach that has led multiple teams to success.

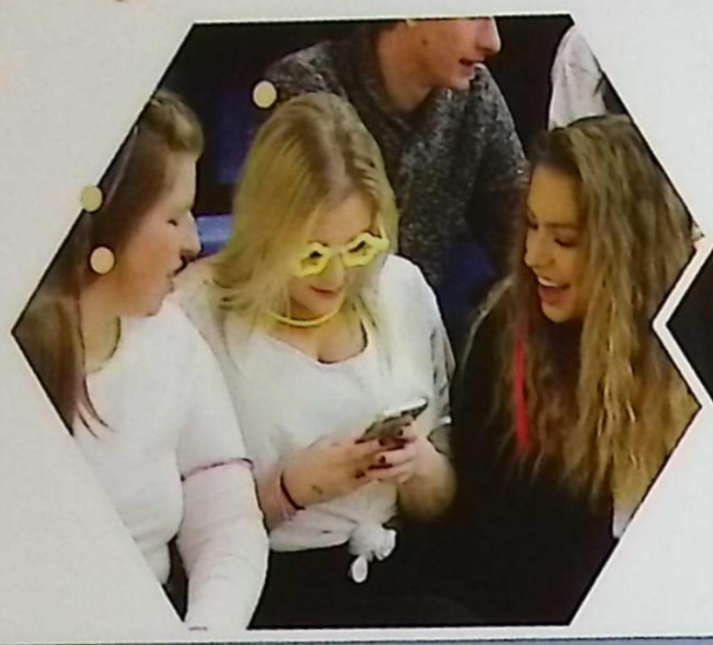
SC Student Section



above: "I like sitting in the student section to watch the games and hang with friends. Sitting with my friends makes watching games much more fun than watching alone."

- Carly Pinsonneault ('21)

above: "I like to stay for the varsity basketball games, if they are home games. If it is an away game, I go home and sleep."

- Lance Schweihofer ('20)

above: "Basketball is my favorite sport to watch because I like the way they dribble up and down the court; they keep it so fresh on the microphone."

- Olivia Young ('18)

above: "I have always loved writing and joining the newspaper club was the perfect opportunity for me to develop, and use my writing skills. I also wanted to become more involved in the high school, so this seemed like a perfect fit. I enjoy hearing others' ideas, and working with people who share my love of writing is exciting. I hope that the newspaper continues to grow in popularity and that many others will find it to be a great opportunity, just like I did."

-Stephanie Williams ('20)

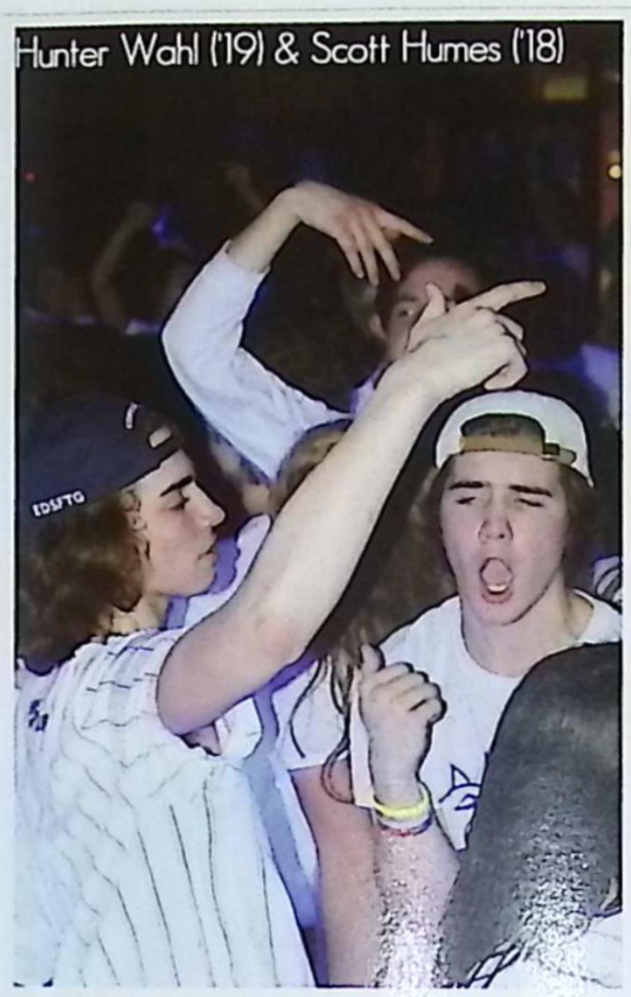
Out of... Newspaper

above: "Ever since I was little, I had a passion for reading and writing. Coming into high school, I was hoping that there would be some curriculum based organizations that I could get involved in. Unfortunately, our high school doesn't offer anything like that, especially in the area of journalism. Rather than accepting that fact and moving on, I decided to take matters into my own hands and start a newspaper club. Although it was a very rigorous process, I eventually got my plans approved by Mr. Miller. So far, the newspaper has been pretty time-consuming, but I know this will be a rewarding experience that I will never forget."

- Megan Gunnery ('20)



"Dancing came naturally to me, I just watched YouTube videos and learned different ways to move my body. I stay flexible year round because of all the sports I play, I have to stay loose. I love dancing for crowds because when I dance against another person I think of, and learn, new moves." - Austin Currie ('21)

the Classroom!

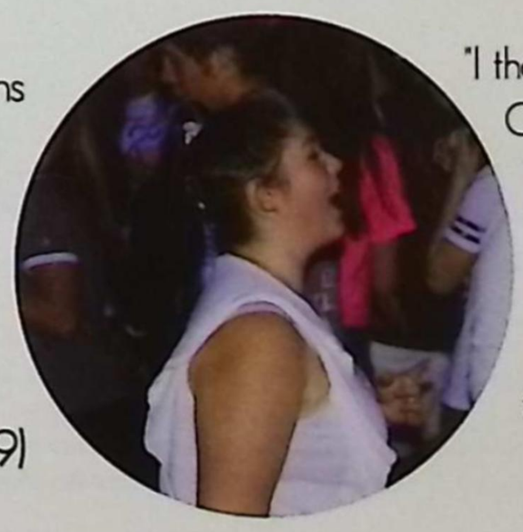
Glow Dance

"I would like to have more dances similar to the Glow Dance in future years. I liked how it was informal and you could dress in whatever you wanted. My only complaint about the dance is the lack of line dance music, but overall I prefer the idea of casual dances because you don't feel as restricted."

- Evan Jablinskey ('20)

"I loved how the decorations looked! I think it was the best decorated dance we've had at the school. The music and DJ were great too!"

- Alex Curie ('19)



"I thought the decorations at the Glow Dance were really cool. The black lights were my favorite because they made everything glow, the Christmas lights were pretty fun too."

- Camille McLeod ('19)

In the... Paint!

left: "I love playing in front of a home crowd and a large student section because of all the energy they give our team. Plus, the student section makes the game more exciting. The top three skills I have that have helped me become successful at basketball are hard work, getting along with my teammates, and having fun." - Scott Selleck('19) left: "This will be my last year playing organized basketball and it felt just like any other. We still have the same goal, go as far as we can in the pool play." - Mario Mattson ('18)

left: "When playing in front of other schools' student section, I usually keep my cool by telling myself to relax and stay calm. What really sets us apart from other teams is in the area of how much work we put into the off-season. Personally, I came to the gym pretty much every day over the summer because I knew it would help put us in a position to succeed." - Matthew Eisenhardt ('19) left: "This season has lived up to my expectations because I knew coming into it that we would accomplish great things. We captured the league title, so, if nothing else, this season surpassed my expectations. This made me glad that I decided to stick with basketball. I am also glad I decided to stick with basketball because I have always been a three sport athlete and I genuinely like the game." - Chris Jabiro ('19) left: "The referees kept making bad calls on Sean Donaldson ('20) so he talked back to them. Unfortunately, we had to run extra in practice the next day because Coach Sharrow was mad. However, it made the whole team better because after that...we didn't complain to the refs anymore and we don't let the refs effect how we play." - Brady Delore ('18)

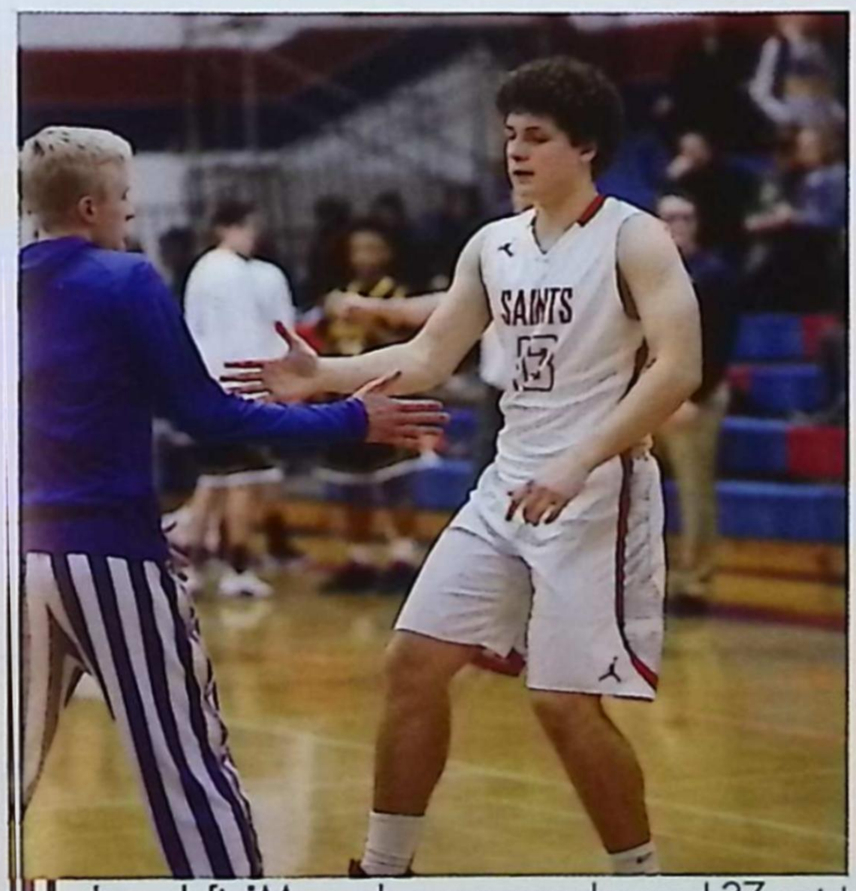
Mario Mattson ('18)

left: "My personal goal for this season was to start on varsity and be a good teammate. Our team goal is to win the league. The best play I have made all year was when I took a charge in the South Lake game. It was very close, and it was a game changing play. I honestly did not think I would start this year because there are a lot of seniors on the team, but I guess hard work pays off." - Sean Donaldson ('20)

Garrison Dombrowski ('19)



above left: "My sophomore year, I scored 37 points in one game and that was the most I've ever made in one game. We were playing Oak Park, in a non-conference game, and we ended up winning 64-55. In the fall, I signed with Ferris State University and will be furthering my basketball & academic career there. The advice I would give to athletes looking to play a sport at the college level would be to trust your gut, and don't make a decision until you know it's the right one for you. All I want out of my last high school season is to be the best I can for my teammates. We have been doing great this year, and I know we are going to do our best throughout tournament play." - Ben Davidson ('18)

JV Boys Basketball

Reid Packan ('20)

Joseph Phillips ('20)

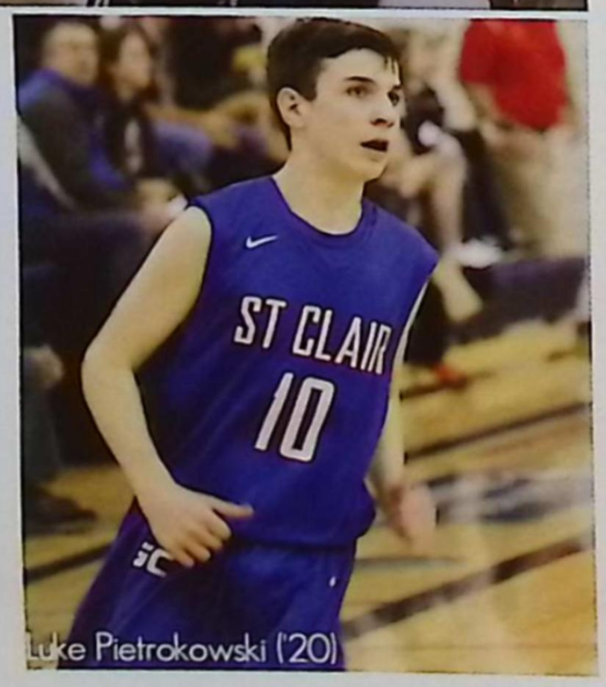
"During the season I really enjoyed playing against some of St. Clair's biggest rivals, like Marine City and Port Huron Northern. When playing against these teams it helps us to progress and push ourselves to become the best that we can be."
- Austin Schweiger ('20)

above: "I started playing basketball when I was about seven years old. Since then, I have become so much better at shooting, and my ball control and passing has improved as well. Playing against different schools challenges me to become better by learning from, and watching, other players. I look up to famous basketball players like Stephen Curry because it makes me want to acquire different skills and become a better basketball player."
- Brady Gleason ('20)

Ryan Zimmer & Jared Linarski ('20)

Who do you have the strongest bond with on your team?

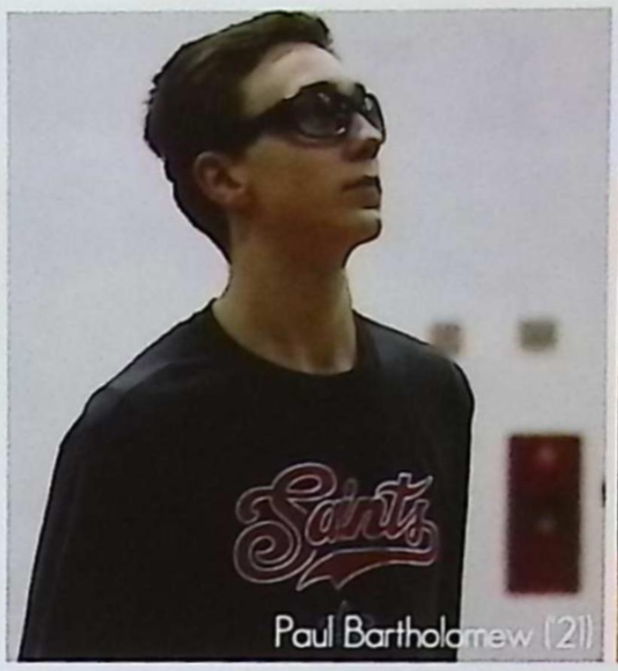
above: "I love going to games and practicing with Brady Gleason ('20) because he encourages me to improve my skills, and he makes me a stronger player every day!"
- Max Gotler ('20)



Luke Pietrokowski ('20)

left: "Before the game, the whole team goes into the locker room and blasts music in order to get everyone fired up to win. All of the energy allows us to share the one thing we want the most at that moment...a win. It also makes us feel really close as a team."
- Kevin Rogers ('20)

Freshman Boys Basketball



Paul Bartholomew (21)

left: "Playing basketball during the winter season impacts my performance in other sports because it keeps me fit and in shape for baseball and football. I enjoyed this season more than my past years because it was longer and the competition was harder. If I were to be involved in basketball after high school I would consider coaching or playing in some type of rec league."

- Matthew Buslepp (21)

above: "Basketball helps me keep my grades up and makes me study harder to remain eligibility. I don't see myself playing past high school, but coaching does seem fun. I enjoyed playing against Lakeshore the most this season because their gym is new. If I were to give my teammates words of wisdom, it would be to stick together and not give up because we have proven it's possible to progress over the season." - Jayden Simonian (21) left: "Our team always listens to music in the locker room before the game to hype ourselves up. Our favorite songs to listen to are Narcos by Migos and Congratulations by Post Malone because everyone on the team likes them and it gets us pumped. I have played many different positions during the season, but my favorite is playing point guard." - Nathan Williams (21)

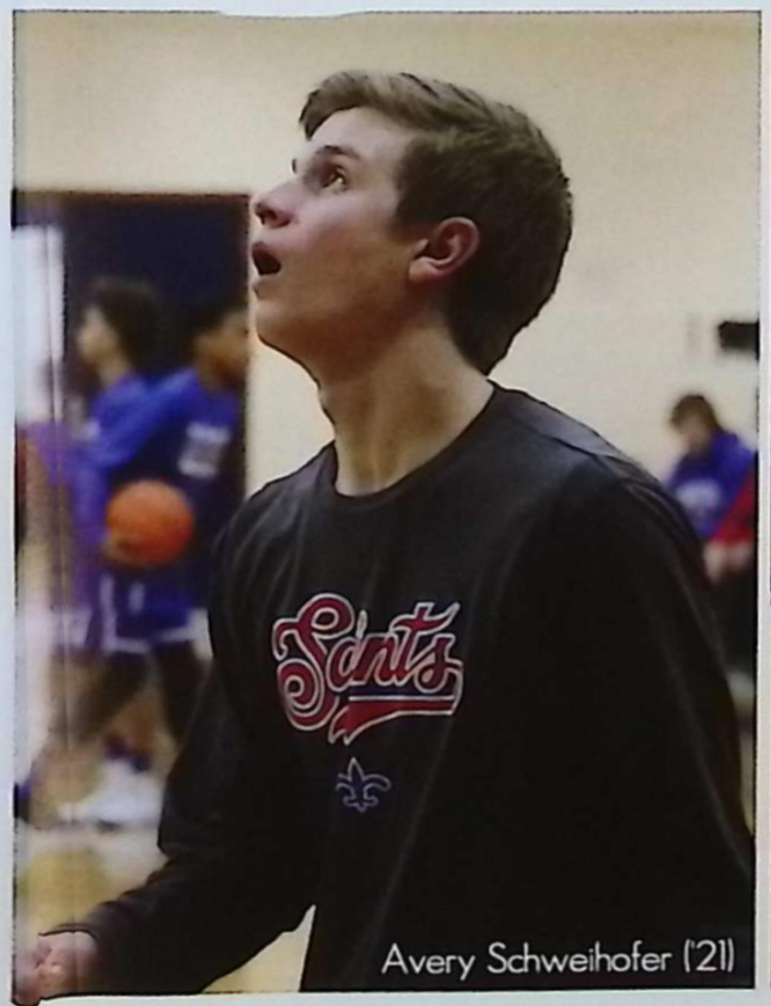
above: "I have been playing basketball for eight years. I would say that my skills have progressed over the years by improving my shooting, and becoming faster, which allows me to block my opponent better. I look up to NBA All-Star Kevin Durant, because he is a great basketball player on the court, but he's also a great person off the court."

- Colin Zimmer (21)



Avery Schweihofer (21)

Beau Becker (21)

right: "Jayden Simonian (21) and I both play the same position, which has made us closer throughout the season. We help each other realize what we did wrong, and we try to figure out how to fix it for the next game. In third grade we played Biddy Ball together, but now we play for fun during our free time. Hopefully that will help us progress and get better every year." - Trevor Selweski (21)

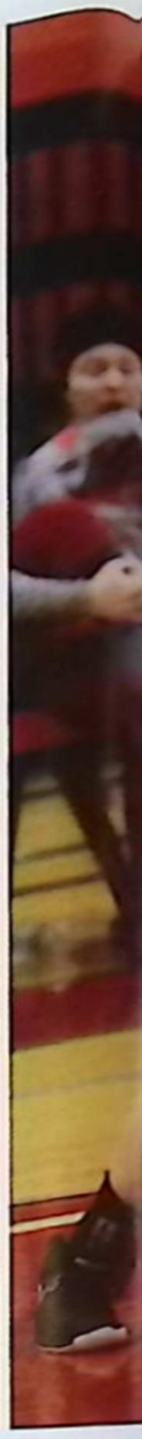
Alexa Rutledge ('19)



below: "Having my dad as the assistant coach is hard at times because I put a lot of pressure on myself to be perfect. This was by far my favorite season though, the team was very close. Since we have pretty much had the same team for two years it will be very hard, and sad, to see the seniors leave."

-Savanna Green ('19)

Kara Donaldson ('19)

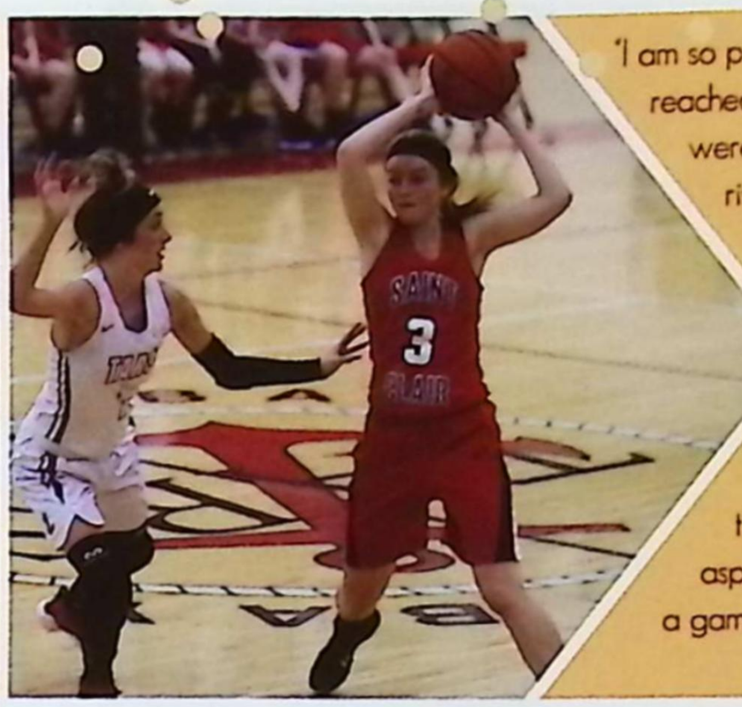
Avery Skonieczny ('19)

below left: "I hope to play at SC4 and then see where my basketball career takes me from there. I may even come back to help coach, someday. This season was a team effort, all of our success derived from the entire team's hard work. I would like to shout out to Savanna Green ('19) for asking the stupidest questions at practice everyday; it was funny and lightened the mood."

-Jessica Bohm ('18)

Alexis Churchill ('18)

Julianna Cataldo ('19)



"I am so proud of how the team did this year. We reached four out of five of our goals, which were: 1) Compete with rival teams. 2) Beat rival teams. 3) Win the league. 4) Win the MAC tournament. The team's hard work before and during the season payed off. I am proud of my accomplishments, and each year I continue to get better, especially my three-point shooting. I would say that I have perfected the rebounding aspect of my game, averaging a rebound a game."
-Mia Janssen ('19)

"My advice to girls that want to play varsity basketball is to go to every practice, game, open gym, or scrimmage with the intent of getting better, not just going through the motions. My favorite part of our practice was putting in new plays because it was cool when they worked in our games, especially in our game against Armada. I think that it is important to be as involved as possible, especially senior year, so the more sports you're in, the better your high school experience will be."
-Avery Skonieczny ('18)

Out of... Bounds!

"The most memorable thing about this season was the Marysville game because they are a rival team that has crushed us for a long time, but this year we crushed them. It was the most intense game, and it meant the most to us, even though it may not have been a championship game."
-Alexis Churchill ('18)

below: "Basketball is challenging, but also fun. When I'm playing on a good team, I don't have many worries. Sometimes it can be frustrating, but my team is always there to pick me up. I encourage everyone to try the sport because it is energizing and a great way to meet new people." - Raegan Mozal ('20)

M. Bassett

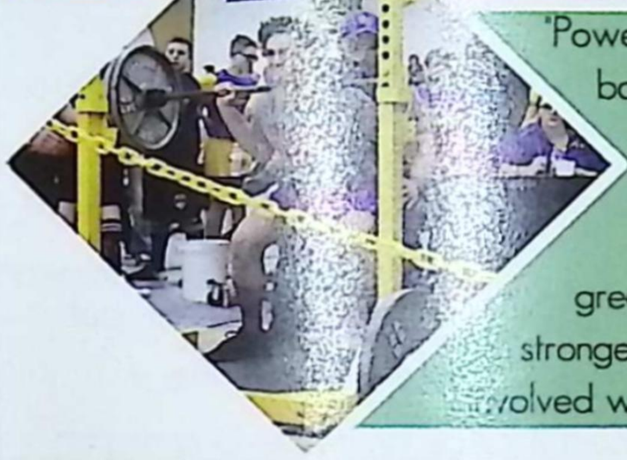
Josefina Gonzalez ('18)

above: "To be my best, I try to eat healthy and get plenty of sleep. I joined basketball when I was really young; my mom signed me up for Biddy Ball and I started to like it. I love being on a team and meeting new people. The sport, in general, is fun and exciting."

- Annaleise Lamontagne ('20)

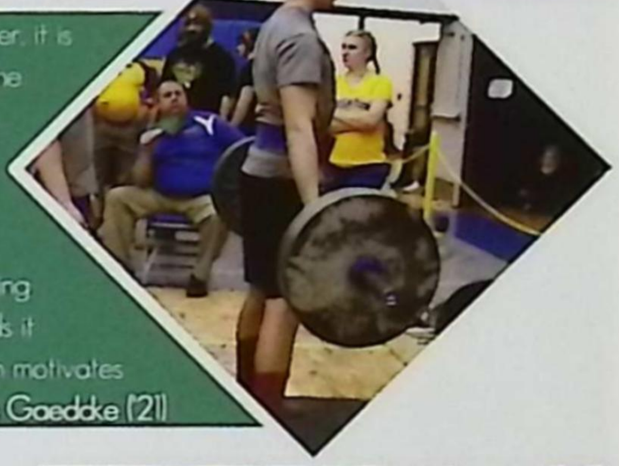
Powerlifting

River Palumbo (20)



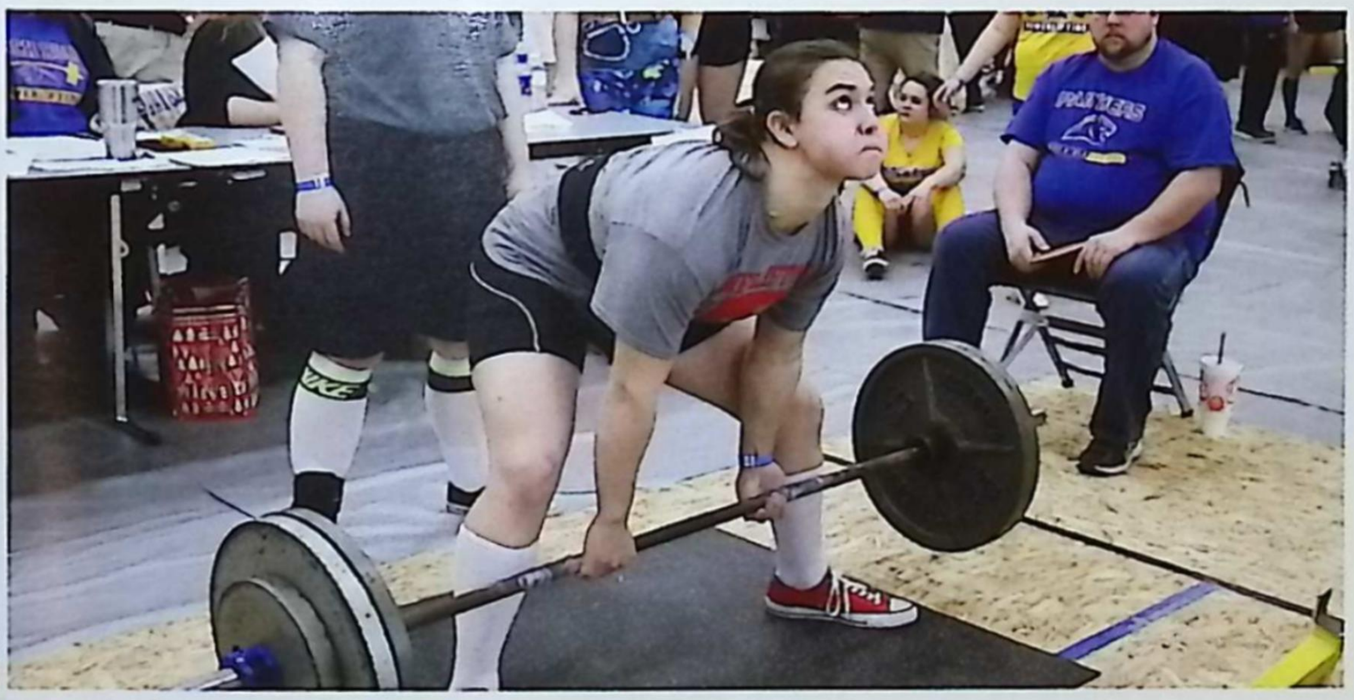
"Powerlifting helped me create a stronger bond with other lifters. We all come together and push each other to limits we didn't know we could reach. I encourage people to join because it is a great way to stay in shape and get stronger for other sports or clubs you are involved with."

- Ethan Mahn ('19)



"Powerlifting is more of an individual sport. However, it is up to the team to believe in each other so everyone can accomplish their goal. The hardest part for me was having self-doubt, but my friends helped me train harder and reach my personal record of 415 lbs. in the deadlift. They also helped me improve my squat. I started lifting last year, but being a part of a team has changed my attitude towards it because it is more fun, but also more difficult, which motivates me to lift more."

- Aiden Goeddke ('21)



left: "Competing at states is very nerve-wracking. The atmosphere is very tense and harsh. However, the lifters are all very nice though, which is weird because when we compete against each other we're not so friendly. I love the feel of relief that I get at big competitions, like states, as I lift the weight without falling. I am currently holding the state record for the bench press at 190lbs."

- Molly Likins ('18)

Emilee Laenen ('18)

left: "Molly Likins ('18) and Emilee Laenen ('18) are very motivational in this sport. Sometimes they yell at me but that only pushes me to try harder and continue to get better, especially in the deadlift. Powerlifting helps me forget about homework, and stress, so it makes school more enjoyable. Practices are laid back and fun, but we still work hard."

- Maci Chamberlin ('20)

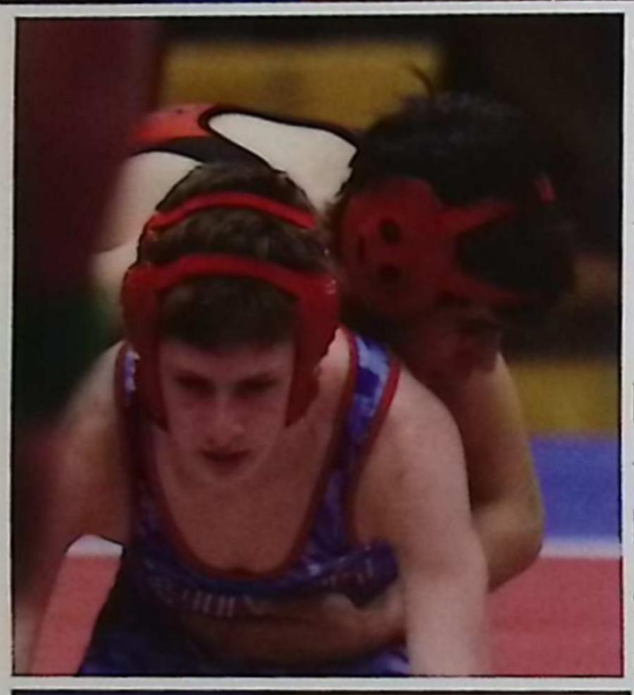
above: "Ethan Mahn ('19) and I play a lot of different sports together so he encouraged me to try powerlifting. We spot each other on lifts, and we also push each other to keep going. I had a personal record in every lift, at a single meet, which is a great accomplishment since this is my first year doing powerlifting. The coaches were great this season. They were very encouraging and built positive vibes toward the lifters, so we continued to get better."

- Branden Reuba ('20)

Cam Haslem ('20)

Austin Currie



above middle: "When starting a match, I begin by sizing up my opponent, but it depends on the match. With some opponents I just know that I'll be able to lay them out easily. During the match, I ask myself what move I need to do next in order to pin the opponent. After a pin, my first thought is 'bring on the next one' because winning is a relief and it has a glorious feeling."

- Zachary Sugars ('2

left: "My favorite move is the Peterson. It's complicated to explain, but you basically sit-out, put your shoulder to the ground, grab their leg and their wrist, and then fall backwards. I like it because it was one of the easier moves for me to master. I've used it once or twice in a match and the outcome was pretty good. This particular move made the opponent fall hard on the ground."

"On the wrestling team, I probably have the strongest bond with Cameron Haslem ('20). We made this bond because we have done a lot of postseason events together. When we are working together we keep pushing each other when things get too easy. Through these experiences, we have taught each other a lot. He taught me that I gotta stay quick and I need to expect the unexpected. I taught him that he has to use more technique and form."

VARSITY WRESTLING

"I started wrestling last year, and I joined the team because I thought it would be fun to try. I am glad I took up the sport because it keeps me in shape. In my opinion, the most important thing, to be successful in wrestling, is to use your skills and knowledge on the mats. Wrestling is a very rewarding sport because it gives you the ability to earn medals and skills at the same time."

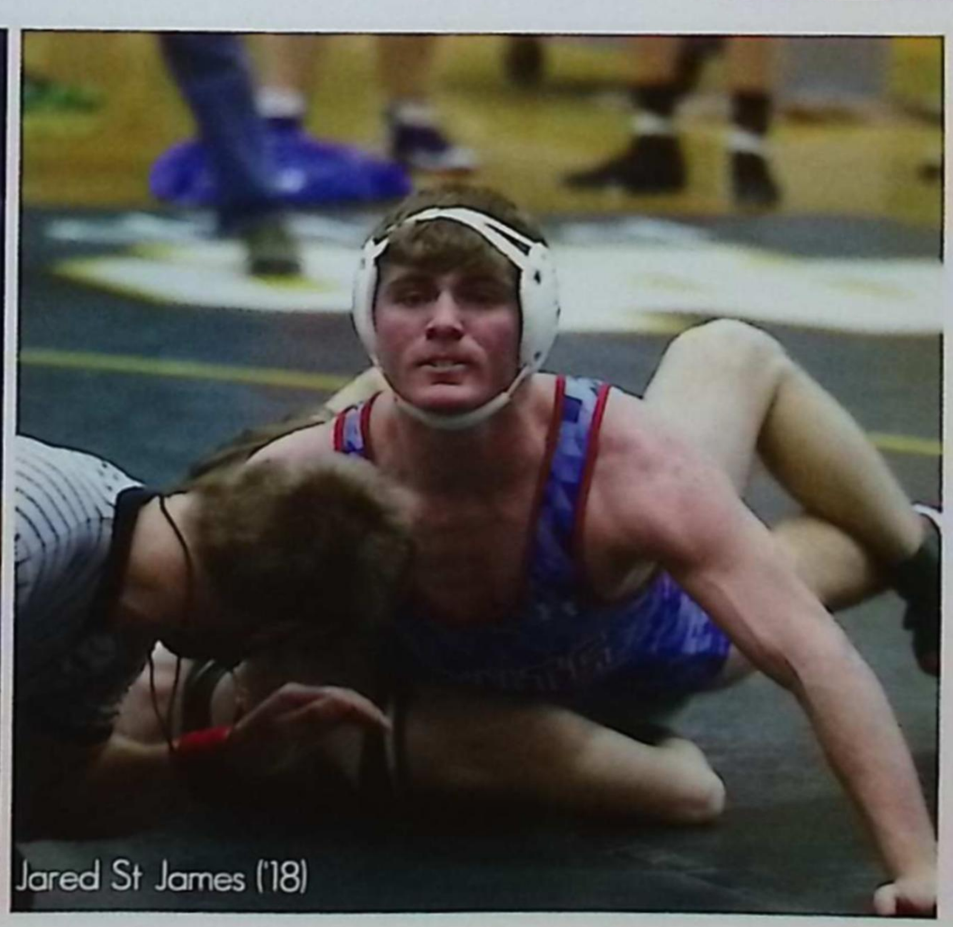
- Nathaniel Luther ('21)

"Overall, wrestling has taught me how to beat people up. In life, this helps me because now I can protect myself if I need to, and the moves I've learned are good practice for tackling, in football. #beastmode"

- Jamison Henson ('19)

"This year my parents have come to all my meets and have given me rides to every practice; they have made wrestling possible for me. The support they give me shows that they care about the sports I play." - Kalvin Heid ('21)

Alex Hall ('21)



Jared St James ('18)

left: "My favorite supporter is Eliza Neiman ('20). When she comes to my matches, she makes me nervous because I want to win for her. I would rather win than lose in front of her because nobody wants a boy who loses. Overall, I think she makes my performance better 'cause I do everything I can to win when she's there. She doesn't cheer for me out loud, but she cheers for me through the vibes she gives off." - John Westfall ('20)

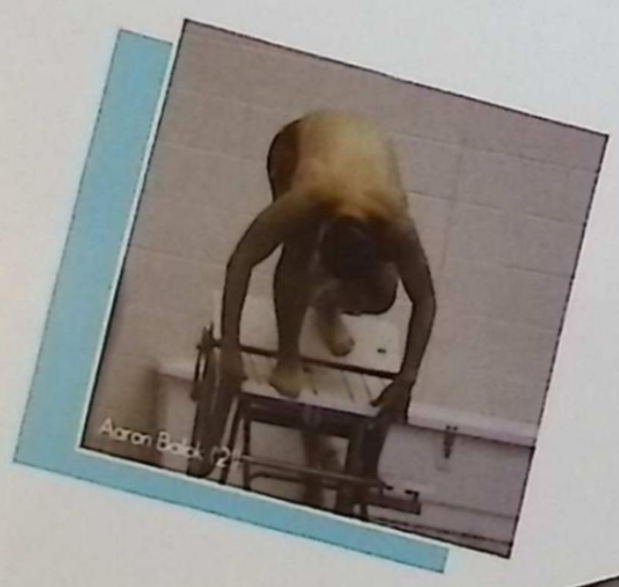
Boys Swim & Dive

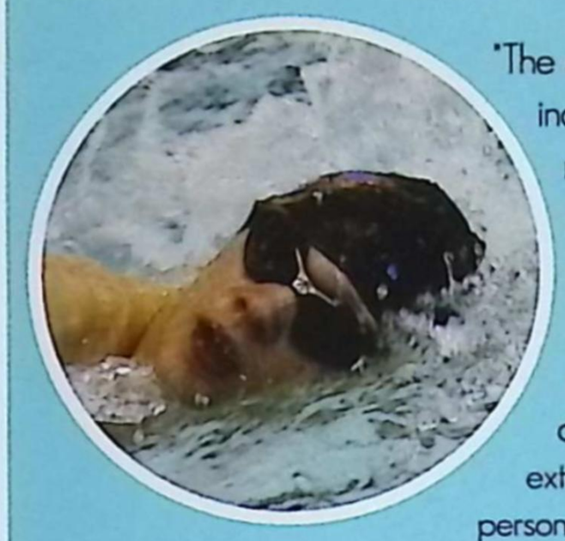
right: "Going into my freshman year I knew that I would have a pretty big role on the team. I am the number one swimmer in two of my events and that is extremely stressful. It's a lot to handle, but my teammates make it a lot easier."

- Matthew Arrigoni ('21)



Aaron Bolek ('21)

Isaiah Marquez ('20)



"The swim team was a great experience. It was incredibly difficult, however, balancing it with many of the other aspects of my life. Practicing for up to five hours on some days certainly was a struggle! I will not say it wasn't worth it though. All of the hard work paid off when when we won a meet or I dropped time." All in all, being on the team was extremely beneficial to me as an athlete and a person"

- Nathan Balok ('19)

"Many people ask me what it's like to have Molly Likins ('18) as my sister. I don't feel any pressure to live up to her accomplishments because my mom says I'm faster than her."

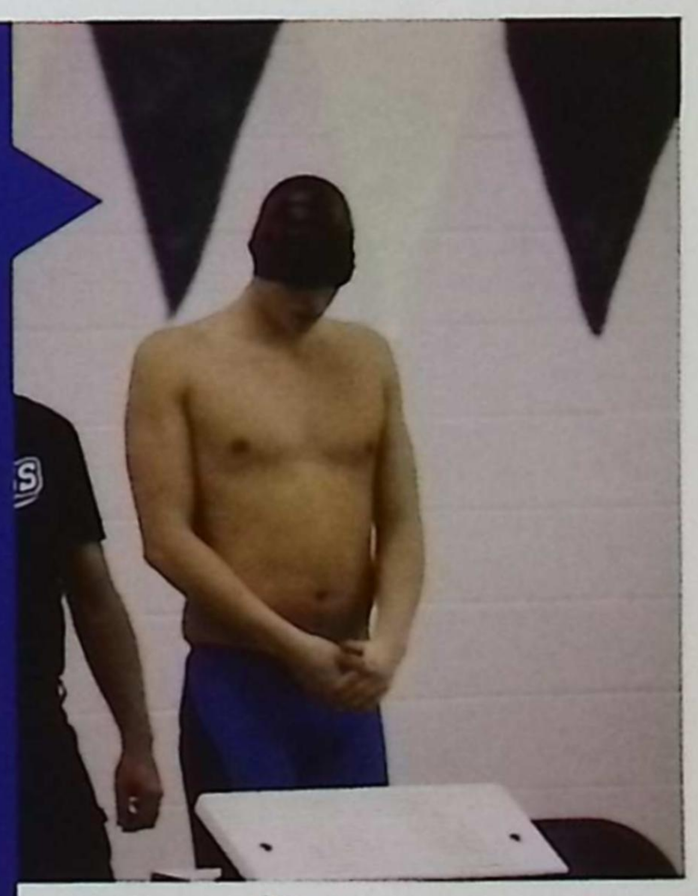
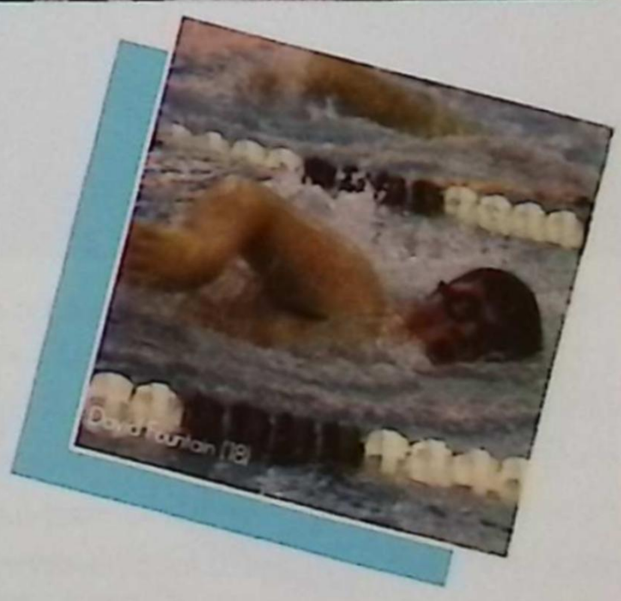
In the... Pool!

"Swimming has always been my passion, and I knew that I wanted to go into a career that involved the sport I love. I decided to join the Navy, so swimming has helped me immensely, and will continue to do so, during my journey. My ultimate goal is to be an aviation Rescue Swimmer, which is pretty much an intense lifeguard. I am very excited to serve my country, but I will miss all of the nonsense that goes on at swim practice a whole lot."

- Kannon Brooks ('18)

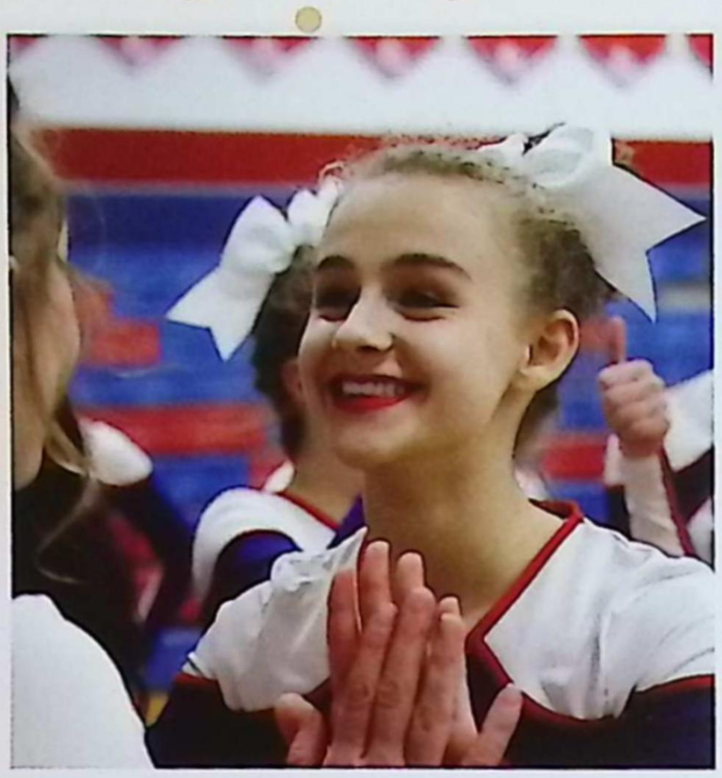


"I have been a gymnast since I could walk, so I knew that diving would be a good fit for me. My gymnastics career has helped me greatly in diving because of all the flips and tricks that I already knew how to do. It also gave me confidence and comfort when diving off of the board. Both diving and gymnastics have taught me that I can do anything I set my mind to and to not second guess myself." - Jared Falkner ('19)



David Fortion ('18)

Paiten Frey ('21)



left: "Juggling school and cheer was definitely a challenge this year. I had to constantly be on top of everything. I did homework every free minute I had. I didn't have a lot of time between school and practice, but I made it work."

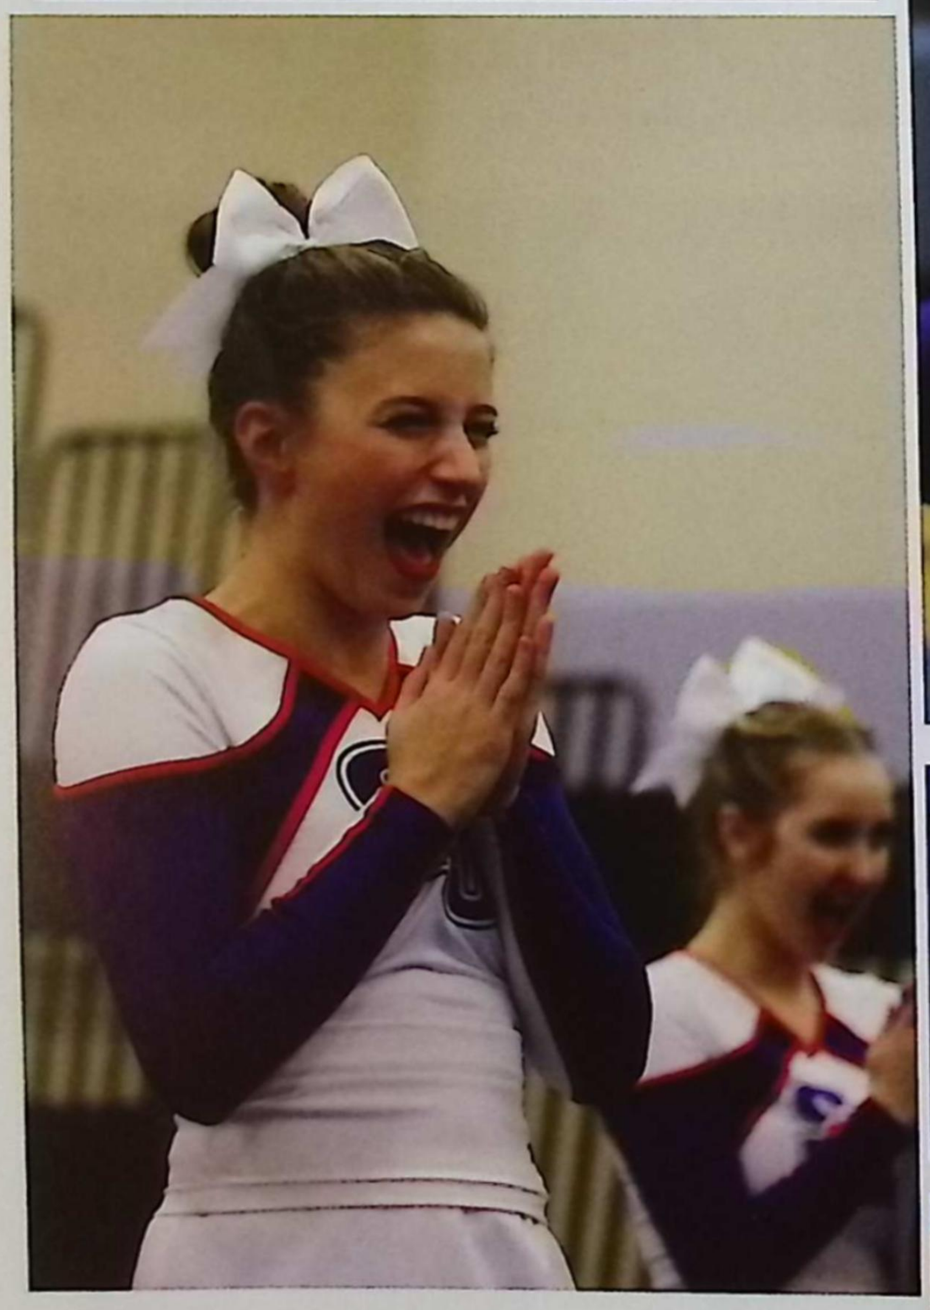
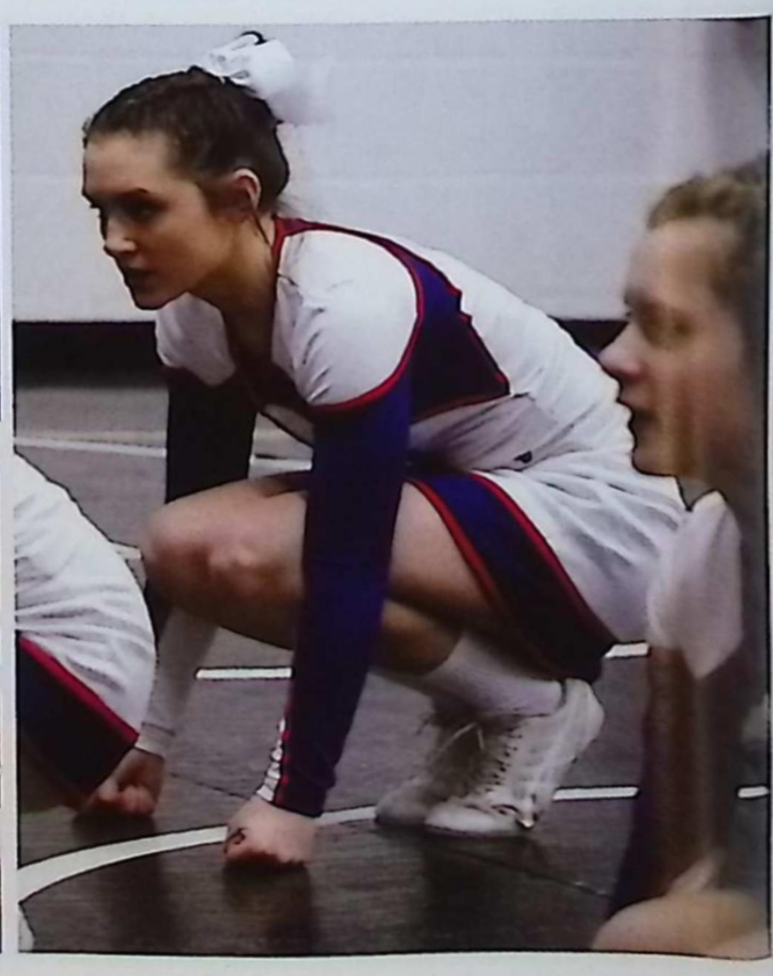
Isabelle Kue ('20)



right: "It was a great season, but we had a few setbacks. We were forced to make last minute changes in Round 3 after a few of the girls quit. This required all of us to come together as a team, more than we ever have, and overcome the problem. It really showed that we could conquer anything!"

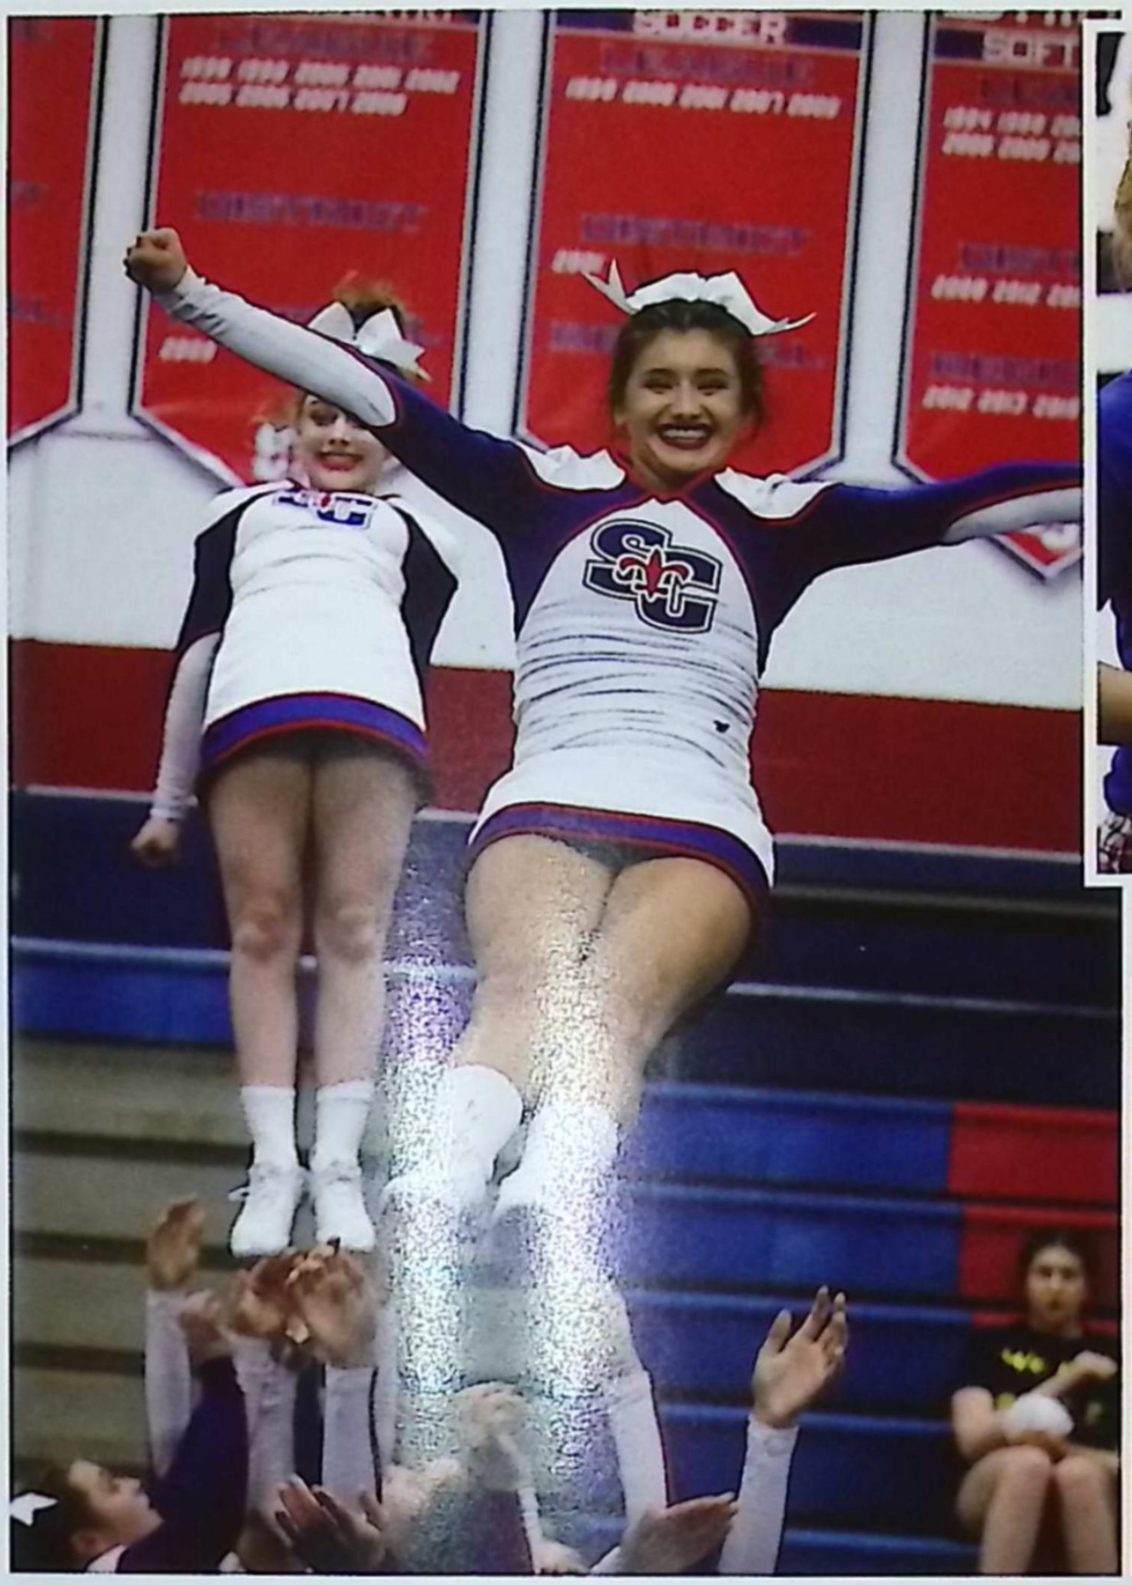
- Alexa Schweihofer ('20)



What would you say to someone who is considering joining the cheer team?

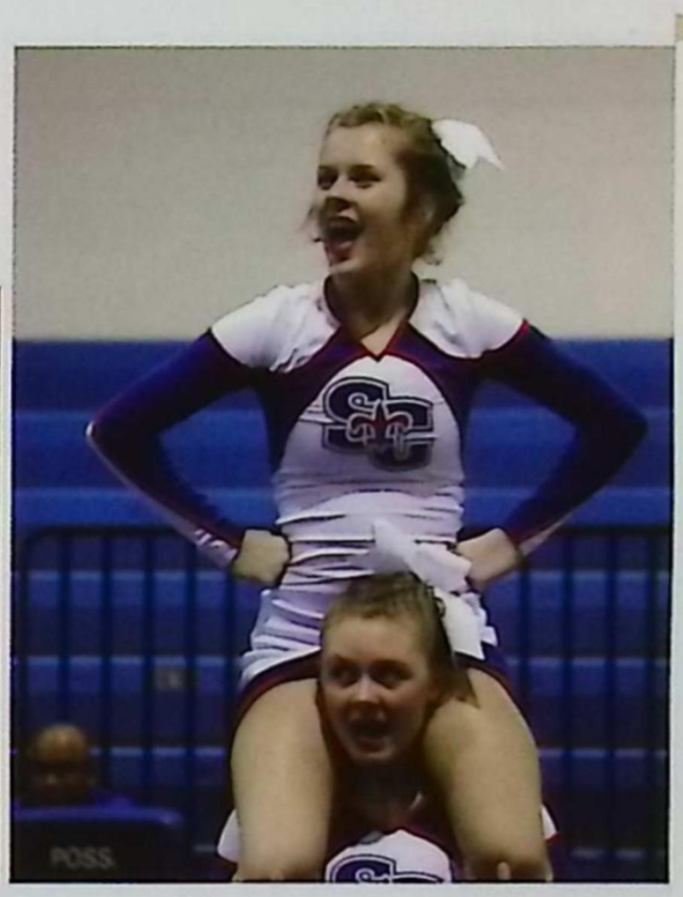
above: "I would tell them to try it out. A lot of people think cheer is extremely hard because it's not a normal sport, but it's really not that bad. Cheer is so much fun. Once you try it, you'll love it and you meet a lot of awesome people!"

- Alida Filippis ('18)



"Back when my aunt was a cheerleader, she would always bring me down on the sidelines to cheer with her. I was four at the time, and I loved it. I've been cheering since I was a toddler, so I guess you could say it's in my blood! Cheer forever!"

- Clowie Schweihofer ('19)



"The hardest part of cheer for me is having to learn everything so fast, and trying to catch up to all of the girls who have been on the team for two or three years. Although that part is hard, it is also what I love about it. Cheer is challenging and there is always something new to try." - Jessica Diller ('21)

Get In the Spirit!

Q and A:

What was it being on the cheer team as a freshman?

"It has been hard being a part of the varsity cheer team as a freshman. I had to work my butt off to make the team, It was difficult being in the rounds with everyone who has more experience and knows what they are doing. So, I really had to push myself and step up my game."

- Ella Gilbert ('21)

Why did you decide to join the cheer team?

"I wouldn't be where I am today without the inspiration from my sister. She is the real reason I wanted to become a cheerleader. I aspire to work my hardest to achieve my goals and make her proud. This season I accomplished my goal of getting my cartwheel tuck!"

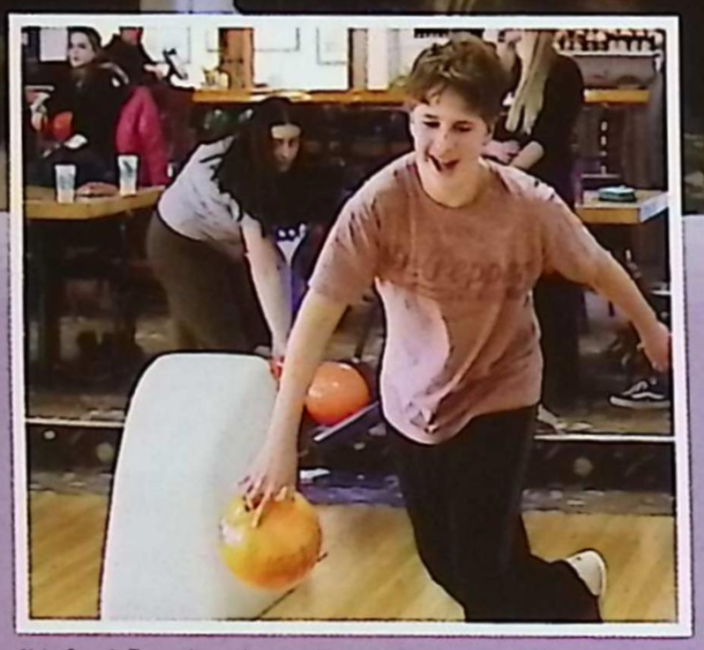
- Hannah Hayes ('18)

What was the hardest part of cheer for you?

"The hardest part of cheer for me was gymnastics. I ended up taking myself out of gymnastics, which helped improved other aspects of cheer, and that made the season more enjoyable."

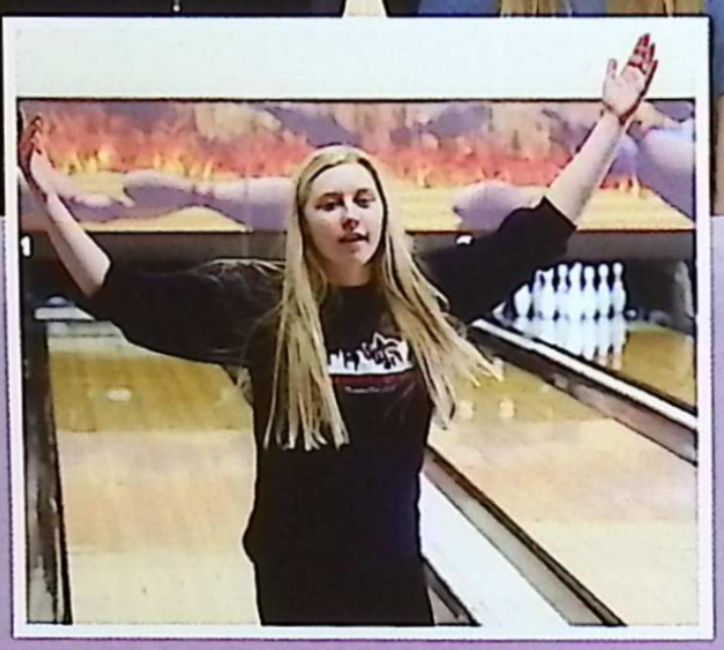
- Jordan Plonka ('18)

Unified Bowling



"Unified Bowling has allowed me to get involved with something new. At the beginning, I wasn't that good but now I see myself getting more strikes and spares every week. It makes me happy when I see my friends and I improving more and more."

- Robby Glassnor ('20)



"I love Unified Bowling because it's a great way to interact and have fun with other kids. One time, when I walked up to the lane, I dropped the bowling ball just like the people in Wii Sports do. When I turned around, I almost expected people to do the jump-spin!"

-Megan Lambrecht ('18')

"Going bowling every week has taught me to be more social and interact with more people. I think everyone should try it because it gives you an opportunity to meet new, and fun, people while keeping yourself busy after school with something fun!"

- Brett Gamble ('18)

Olivia Hunter ('19)

above: "I really enjoy bowling! I love talking amongst my friends, and whenever my friends or I do well we all celebrate; it makes me feel as if I am part of a team." - Christian DeWolf ('20) above: "One of my close friends told me about Unified Bowling a few weeks before the sign up. At first, I was nervous because I didn't know many people participating, and thought there may be many skilled people on the team. When I walked in, my first day, I was greeted and welcomed by everyone. I found Unified Bowling to be something that you don't have to be great at, or have experience in, but is just something fun to do with your friends!" - JB Wolvin ('19)

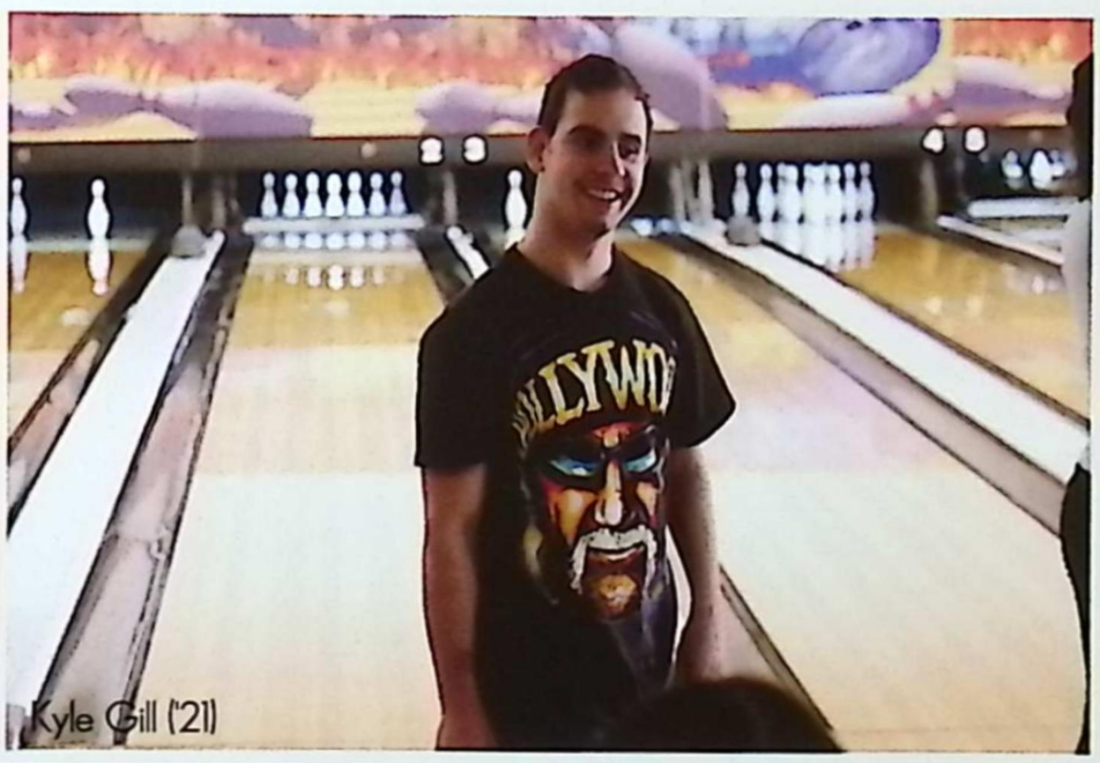
A. Hamill

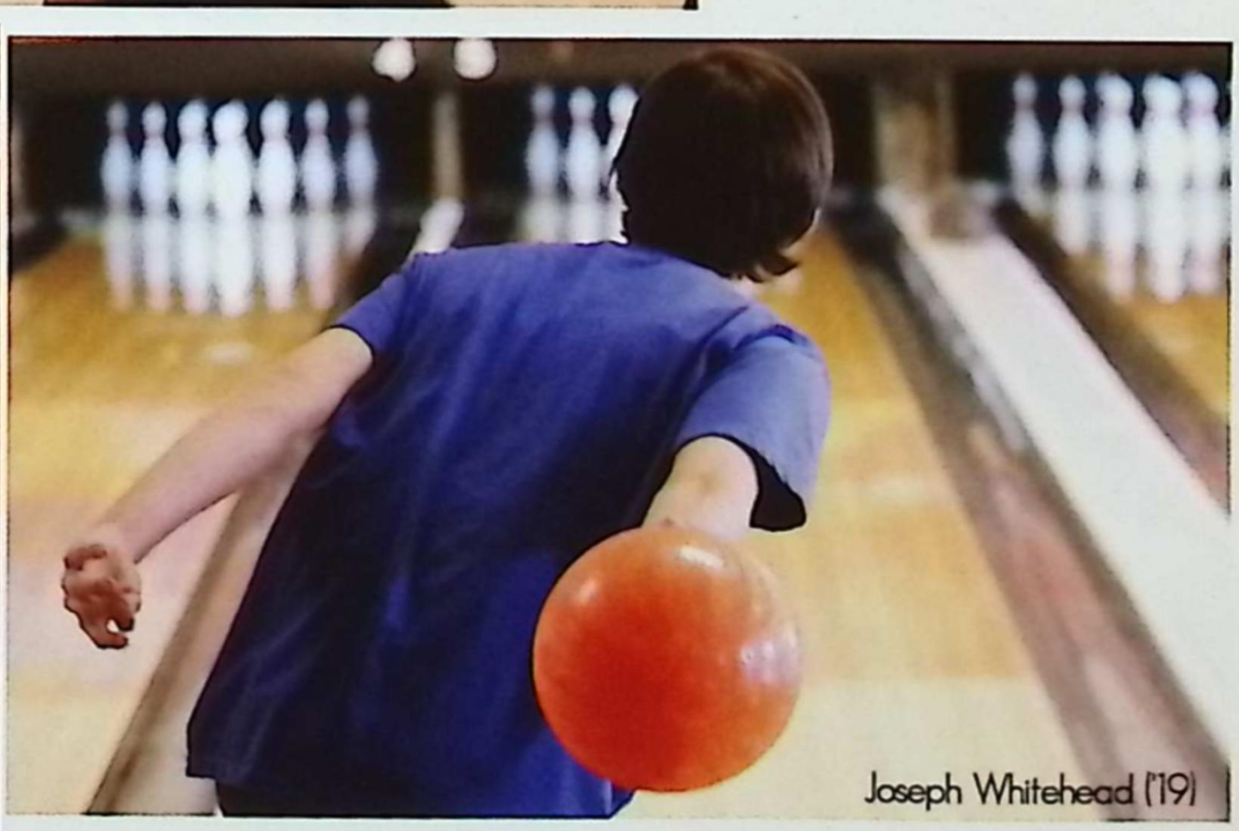
"Unified Bowling is a very fun activity that I enjoy doing after school. I usually bowl with my family, so it is fun going every week with a large group of people from SCHS. A few weeks ago, I remember my friend Greyson Mehlberg ('19) and I were both coming up to the lane at the same time to bowl. When we realized this, the balls both went directly in the gutter!" - Madison Fields ('19)

Why did you participate in Unified Bowling?

"I love to see everyone smiling and having a fun time together. I like how it gives a lot of people in our school a good opportunity to have fun with, and meet, others. Not a lot of people know about Unified Bowling, and even though I'm not familiar with many of the people involved, it's still fun to meet, and become friends with, all of these new people." - Kyle Zoplitz ('18)



above: "Unified Bowling allowed me to create friendships with new people I would have most likely never met. Now that I've started Unified Bowling, I have been bowling outside of school more and more with my friends to improve our skills!" - Julia Westfall ('19)



Joseph Whitehead ('19)

Alysa Cataldo

Alysa,

A moment ago you were our precious little girl, today you stand before us, as this amazing, beautiful and independent young woman – where has the time gone? You have brought us so much love, joy, and laughter that our hearts are just overflowing with pride! As you embark in the next phase of your life, continue to work hard, celebrate your successes, learn from your mistakes, keep your faith, make your dreams BIG and your worries small, and of course, always live by "The Golden Rule"! You will accomplish everything you set out to because all things are possible as long as you believe in yourself. You are vibrant, intelligent, determined and have great strengths, so don't let anything hold you back! Keep your passionate spirit alive, make good choices, be happy and remember to ALWAYS keep your family close to your heart! You have our full support and blessings as we will always be here for you. We Love You More Than The Whole Wide World!!

Love, Dad, Mom, Anton and Julianna

Mackenzie Buslepp

Congratulations Mackenzie!

Words cannot describe how proud we are of you and all of your accomplishments. You have become a wonderful young woman with a bright future ahead of you. You are a kind and thoughtful person, never lose that quality. Set high standards for yourself and work hard to achieve them. Remember that you will always have our love and support

Love,

Dad, Mom, Becky, Hailey & Matt

Ben,
We are so proud of you, but not just for your accomplishments.
We are proud of who you are as a person.
You are open-minded, driven, determined, kind and funny. This chapter of your life is over, but there is so much left for you to write.
Love,

Ben,
Our little boy. A boy no longer, but a fine young man inside and out. We could not be more proud of your excellent grades and your kind heart. You are always willing to help your sisters out and make them laugh.

We are as excited as you are for the next chapter in your life.
Though you may be leaving our house for college, know that you will never leave our hearts.

Love,
Mom and Dad

YOURE ALL GROWN UP

From crawling to talking, gymnastics and theater, it's been amazing watching you grow up. It seems like just yesterday you were learning your ABCs and 123s. Over the years you've built a world of friends from Fowlerville to Howell and St Clair who view you as helpful, funny and polite. You've got a passion for learning and a love of reading. Your keen interest in art and music is obvious and diverse. You've overcome enormous challenges and have become much stronger as a result. It's hard to believe you're all grown up – the time has passed way too fast. We can't wait to see the wonderful impact you will make on this world. We will always be here for you.

We love you and wish you all the best in college and beyond!

Morgan,

It seems like yesterday I was dragging you into school crying.

Here you are a Senior!!

We are so proud of the young woman you have become. You were always the entertainer with your great imagination, and always making us laugh.

You are a beautiful and caring person who has given us so many happy memories.

Remember, nothing is impossible, so follow your dreams.

We wish you love and happiness in all you do.

We love you so much Morgan!!!

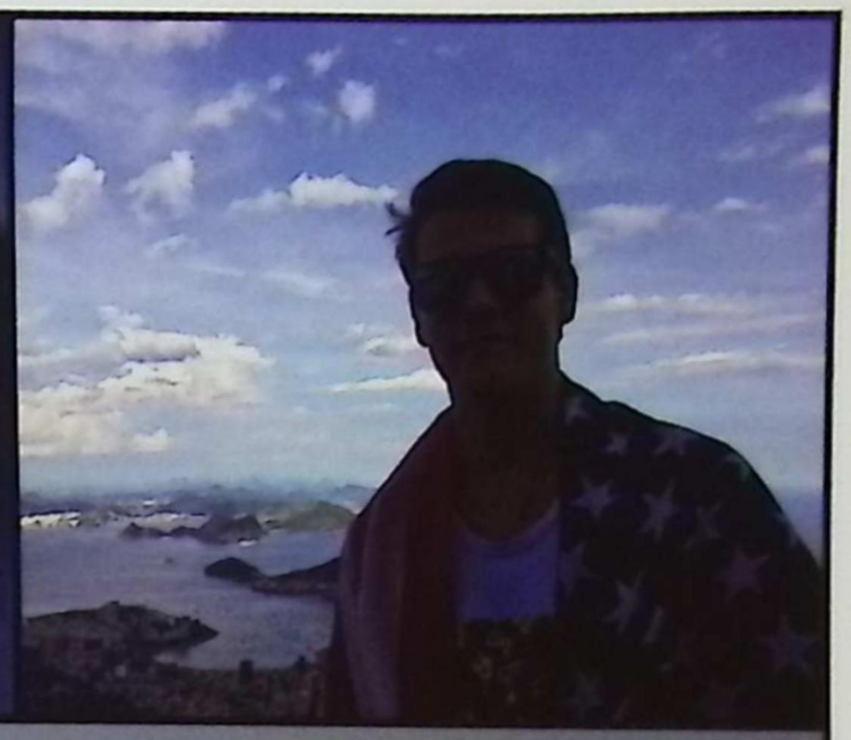
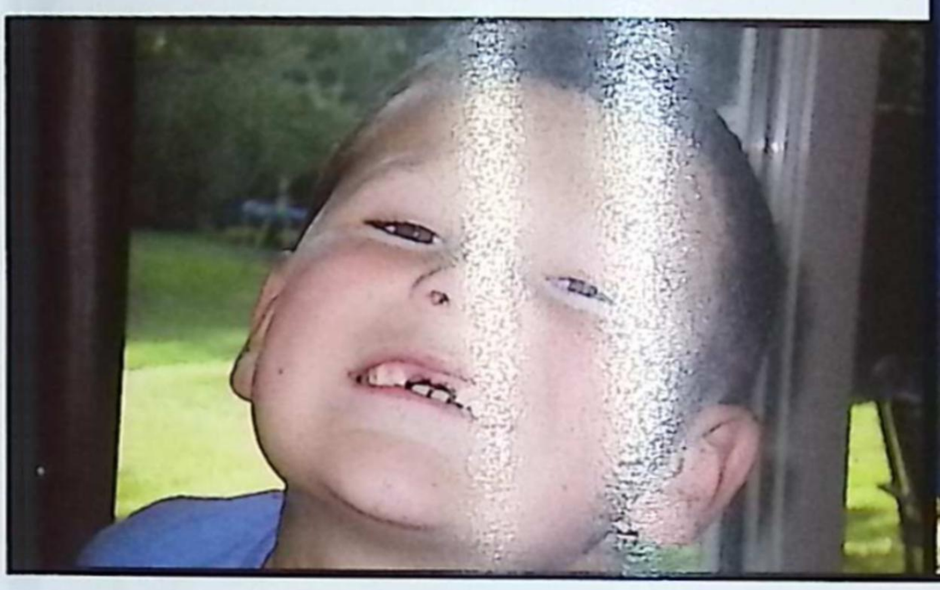
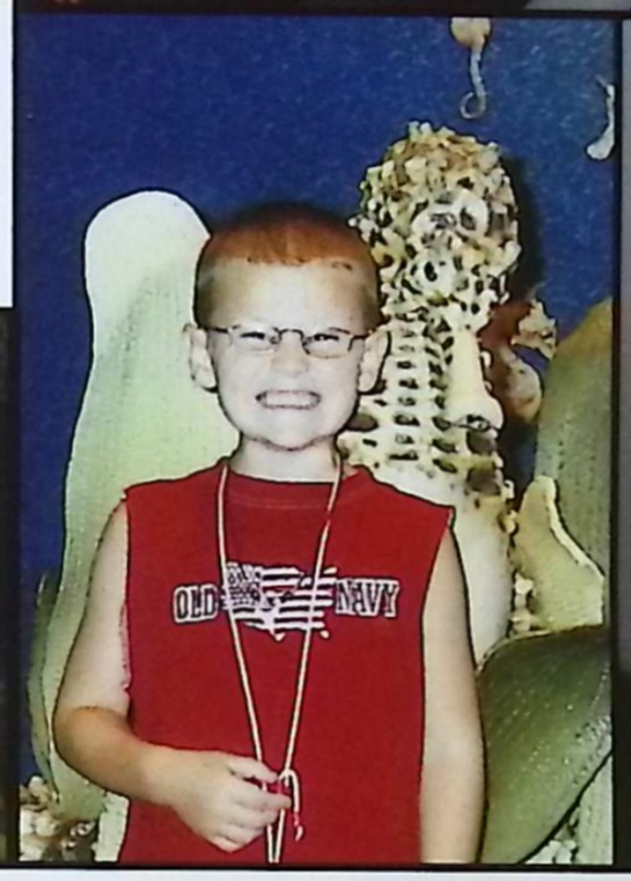
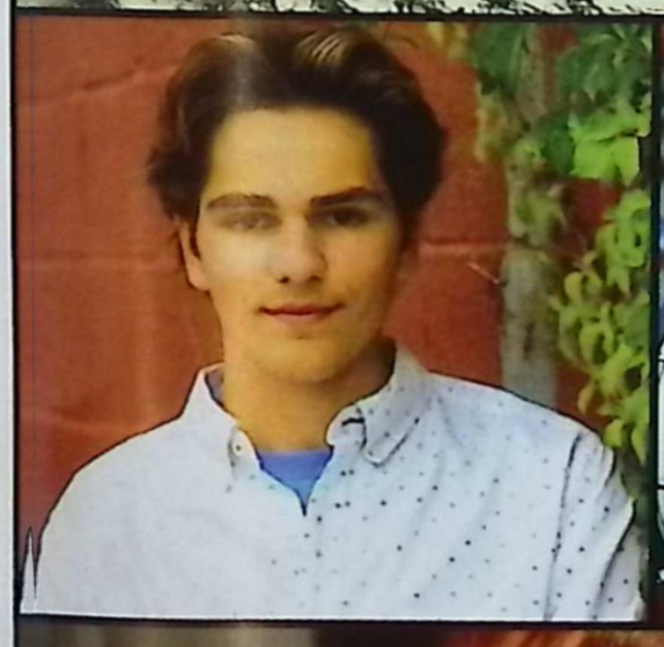
As you graduate from high school, we want you to know how proud we are of you and all of your accomplishments. Life is full of adventures and you surely have experienced many over the last few years. Take what you have learned through your schooling and travels and use it build a successful future. We admire your hard work, determination and sense of humor. Go out and show the world what you can do! We know you will be successful in whatever you choose.

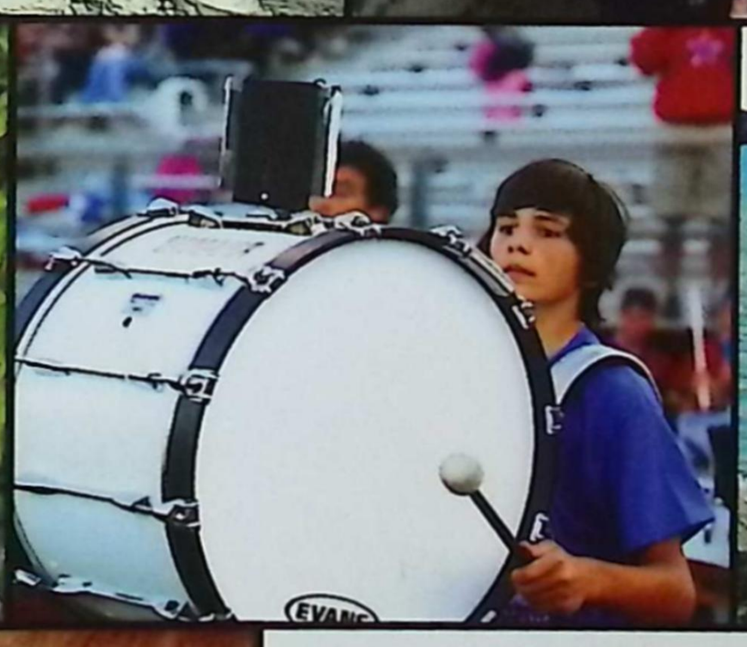
Love you,
Mom, Dad, Hunter and Austin











Conner Fleury

So many memories and proud moments you have given us. To look back and remember that concerned little boy on his first day of school it amazes me to see the confident and kind young man you have become. One adventure down...now it is up to you to choose your next. Whatever you decide, we are sure your drive and determination will lead to great success. Remember, strive for perfection but it is ok to settle for excellence. Conner Matthew, we couldn't be more proud of you!!

All of our love,
Mom, Dad and Drew

Sean Jackson

Congratulations Sean,

You have grown into an amazing young man. It is crazy to think you are turning 18 and graduating! Stay kind, caring, dedicated and all of your dreams will come true. You will love college at Grand Valley State.

When I dropped you off to your first day of school I cried, mostly because you didn't. You were much braver than I was. I am proud of the beautiful young lady you have become. You are a wonderful, loving daughter that I'm blessed each day to call mine. Now, with graduation upon you it's time to pursue all your hopes and dreams! Can't wait to watch it all unfold! Alicia,

I cannot believe it is your senior year! If there was a pause button on life I would have hit it a long time ago to keep you my little one forever but here we are. You are on the verge of graduation...this isn't just about growing up, it is about being grown-up. Graduating says "Ok, world. I am ready."

As a parent, I have so much pride in the young lady that you have become but I can't help but be a little selfish and want you to stay my baby forever. You are one of the most genuine people I know. At 6 years old, I remember talking about different kinds of friends to you and Jessica and you said, "I would rather have 4 quarters than 100 pennies." I think of that often. You were always wise beyond your years and I will always cherish the last 18! was blessed to spend with you and look forward to seeing what will come next for you.

Always remember, "You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know and YOU are the girl who'll decide where you go!"

Love you forever,

Troy Boy,

We are incredibly proud of your many accomplishments and the sacrifices you've made along the way to achieve the extremely high goals you set for yourself. Throughout the toughest of times, the latest of nights and the biggest of disappointments, you never wavered in your commitment to reaching these goals; in fact, that only fueled your desire.

Year after year, you sought new challenges and were willing to takes risks and break the molds in your pursuit of meaningful learning. It is because of you, your drive, your vision and your quest for excellence that so many others have had doors of opportunity opened up for them to walk through. You led the way, and as Robert Frost once said, you "...took the road less traveled and that has made all the difference!"

It has been an absolute privilege to walk down this "road" with you, and we cannot wait to see the new paths that you cut. As you graduate and move on to MSU, continue to be passionate, be strong in your convictions and be true to yourself and your beliefs. Continue to keep your eyes on the prize, and all of your dreams will come true!

To the amazing girl whom I had the pleasure to watch grow up. You, my dear, are a rare gem who is on her way to greatness. From the moment I laid eyes on you, I knew you were extraordinarily special. You continue to blow me away every day. As I tear up even writing this, I realize this is the end of a journey and a beginning of a new one. I am so honored to be a part of it.

From the shy little girl with the cherry shirt and bouncing pig tails, who would rock climb up to my neck, to the brilliant, hilarious, articulate, elegant, strong-willed woman you have become was incredible to witness. I can't wait to see what the future has in store for you.

Always that wild child, I don't know anyone else who would repeatedly watch a movie about a shark attack, while traveling to California to take surfing lessons. You have always been that courageous child who could take on the world. Well, here it is... at your fingertips.

Life is filled with so many surprises. Never surrender. Always take on challenges with the dignity and loyalty that you've always have had. You are fearless. You are inspiring.

I am so extremely proud of you, and without a doubt, so is your angel in the sky. You'll never know how much you actually mean to me. There is nobody else I would rather fold laundry for or tour Europe with; from one end of the spectrum to the other, you'll always be my girl.

I love you forever!

My Dear, Sweet Jack,

I cannot believe that this moment in time has come, yet at the same time, I just cannot even believe that it is actually here already!! These years have finally passed by so quickly! My heart wants to hold onto them and to you, yet I am so happy that you have achieved so much already in your life, and that you have matured into such a wonderful young man! God blessed me beyond measure when He allowed you to come into my life that cold December day. You were such a sweet soul right from the start! As you have grown, I have seen that sweetness blossom into loving gentleness and intuitive understanding! And, of course, there is your wonderful sense of humor. You are so funny! I am immensely proud of how hard you have worked throughout your years of school! You will very soon reap the benefits! Please remember through what God requires you (Micah 6:8) "To act justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God." Jack, always remember god throughout every day, and be merciful to others as well as walk humbly through life with God at the center.

I love you inexplicably! God bless you as you move forward in life! In my heart you will always be sweet Bubba Blue!

Hannah Heid

Hannah foo-foo,
You are our first born, and the guinea pig for all our parenting decisions. We have had to learn how to balance holding on to you tightly, and letting you go to experience life. Not an easy task for parents to do. If we could bottle up time and keep you little forever, we would, but that would not be fair to you. Time has flown by way too fast! We are so proud of you for going outside of your comfort zone to try new things, your determination, competitive spirit, your desire for adventure and travel, love for people and animals, and a heart to do what is right. We can not wait to see what your future holds! We know you will be successful with whatever you set your mind to. We love you more than you could ever imagine, and only God could love you more. You make us proud to be your parents and are blessed that God entrusted us to raise you. We're a little sad to see you grow and be ready to leave the nest, but we can't wait to watch how you fly! Our continued, best wisdom to impart is Proverbs 3:5-6 "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge him, and he will direct your path."
Love ya foo,

Technicalities:

The 2017-2018 St.Clair High School yearbook was produced by Jostens Printing and Publishing in Topeka, Kansas. This was the 13th consecutive year that the 240 page book was printed in color. This book would not have been completed without the help from our Jostens representative, Michael Page, and our in-plant representative, Cathy Goodman. The 17 computers used by our staff are all equipped with Windows 7, which allows us to access the Josten's online site, Yearbook Avenue. In addition, all staff members have access to Adobe Photoshop CS2, which allows them to edit numerous photos. This book predominantly used four fonts: AYT Platinum Blonde OutLn, AYT Ennis Book, AYT Maximo, and ATY Pesky. The custom leather cut out cover was produced by a collaboration of editors, advisor, and Jostens representatives. The end sheet was designed by Matti Basset.

Mrs. Short:

We try to cover every event possible, but sometimes things happen and we still need additional photos. Thanks to you, we were able to receive the pictures we needed for these events. Your help means the world to us, thank you!

Juliet:

Everyone has a role in this class. This year you really helped the editors out by scanning the proud parent pictures. You also helped out a lot at assemblies; taking pictures when it was not even your page. Thank you for all your hard work!

Kara:

You have been with me since day one of yearbook. Because of that I am so thankful that you were my business editor this year. It feels like just yesterday we were the newbies sitting in the car, on our first business push. I am so excited to see what new ideas you bring to the class next year. I know whatever you do will be amazing. Enjoy your senior year because it flies by faster than you think.

Emilee:

Thank you for all of your help this year! Without you, I would have not been able to accomplish everything I wanted to this year. I can't wait to see what's in store for you these next few years. Good Luck in the Navy!

Matti:

Every year there is a girl in class who outrageously creative, this year that girl was you. At the end of last year I asked you to draw the end sheets for our book. Your drawing looked like it was ripped out of a coloring book. I'm so happy you could contribute this unique piece to the book. Thank you!

Megan:

Last year you were just a shy polite girl who always had her work in on time. This year you really came out of your shell. Not only did you step up and play a big role in the business part of the class, you were also the class comedian. I will miss your funny pranks next year!

Maddie:

You brought so much joy to this class. There were some days when I was really stressed out going into class and you always put a smile on my face. I'm so happy you found your calling in yearbook and are taking on a bigger role next year. I know you will do great!

Hannah G:

You are such a hard worker. You strive for your best in everything and that is an amazing quality. Good luck in advanced art next year, and remember you are always welcome back!

Alexa:

I'm happy I got to know you better this year. It is hard to join a class with upper classmen, but you fit in great with your outgoing personality. Enjoy your junior year!

(Mrs. Mead, Mrs. Butlin, Mrs.Becker, Mrs.Gleason, and Mrs. Zoeplitz):

Thank you so much for all of your help! We are so lucky to have such a supportive office staff. Whenever we had a question or favor to ask you were always there and happy to help, with a smile. Your help does not go unnoticed!

Mrs. Wes::

I do not know where to begin. I would first like to thank you for all of the hard work that you personally put into this book, without you the book would not have been a success.Secondly, I would like to thank you for going out of your way for all of the girls on the staff, whether it was taking pictures when we can't make an event or buying us little gifts. You always treated us like your own kids. Lastly, I want to thank you for believing and seeing the potential in me to be the editor this year and for supporting me every step of the way. When I first started this class I was a quiet sophomore who had no idea what I was doing. Thanks to you and this class I have learned and accomplished so much. I will miss you!

Kaylee:

You have grown so much since last year. Being editor is a lot of pressure, but I know you will be great next year. Try to have an open mind but also remember, it's your book after all...do what you want. The best piece of advice I can give you is to remember that not everyone is going to like the book, they will find anything to criticize. No one is perfect, so don't let it affect you. If you ever need anything do not be afraid to text me, I will be happy to help!

Elia:

You have helped out so much with this book. You are so talented and you are going to make a great editor your senior year. I am going to miss our fun talks and fake fights in class next year, but I will come visit whenever I am home. Good luck!

Hannah H:

Going into last year we only had three seniors and we really needed a forth. I knew you would be perfect for this class. You always had outstanding work that was always on time. With that said...We made it! Good luck next year!

Clowie:

I never realized someone could be so sassy until I met you, but I love it. I'm glad I got to know you better these last two years. Enjoy your senior year because it goes by in a blink of an eye!

Lainy:

You have such a unique style and a great eye. You will be an amazing editor with Elia. I can not wait to see what you guys come up with. I will miss you so much next year!

Amelia:

Going into this year we really needed another junior staff member. When we found that junior, I was so happy it was you. You picked up on things right away and I knew I could count on you if someone ever needed a favor. Thank you for all your help!

Olivia:

Yearbook is not easy when you are shy. It is even harder when you are a freshman, because everything is so new, but you never gave up. You were always willing to help when someone needed it, that does not go unnoticed!

Mackenzie Buslepp

Editor~in~Chief

Mackenzie, you have been a part of the SCHS yearbook staff for three years and it has been exciting watching you grow into an amazing editor over the years. Words cannot express how grateful we are for all of your hardwork this past year. The book is very clean yet creative...something many editors struggle with, but not you!

Like everyone else who is featured in this book, we asked Kenzi similar interview questions... For example, we asked, "Why did you even take yearbook?" Mackenzie said, "I wanted to be apart of this class because it was something different, none of my friends were in it, and I knew it would get me more involved in the school."

We also wanted to know what yearbook class taught Kenzi...and she replyed, " It has taught me many things. It helped me feel more comfortable talking to businesses and parents. It forced me to do things I did not want to do at times. One of the many things I have learned is how to stand up and fight for what I believe in. Yearbook has shaped me into the person I am today."

Best of luck at Grand Valley next year, and hopefully one day you'll return to St. Clair High School and take over as an English Teacher and Yearbook Advisor!

Out of... This World!!

Emilee Laenen

Managing Editor

Emilee, I cannot believe you've only been on the yearbook staff for two years. You have been such an enormous help with so many aspects of the book. Your leadership and organizational skills are unprecedented. I know that you will have an incredible career in the Navy on your way to becoming a Nuclear Physicist.

Similarly, we had to ask Emilee some parting questions before she left us... The first one we asked was what advice would she give to any incoming freshmen. She replied, "Do not be afraid to challenge yourself and push yourself outside of your comfort zone because you meet the most wonderful people from new experiences."

Another thing we wanted to know from Emilee was how has she changed over the last four years... "I have become more outgoing. I am no longer afraid to express my opinions or thoughts on a subject because I have realized that even the stupidest thoughts can create something beautiful."

So, as we say one last goodbye, we want to thank you again for EVERYTHING! We will miss your laugh and guidance, but we know that you will be doing magnificent things in the world!!!
